Arthur Davies Tops Victoria District In Matric Results

Son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Davies, Hampshire Road, Wins Varsity Scholarship

Two Girls Tied For B.C. Honors

Arthur Davies, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Davies, 923 Hampshire Road, won highest honors in Victoria District in the matriculation and normal entrance examinations, results of which were announced today by the Department of Education.

With a percentage of 86.6, Davies was within five points of the highest average registered in the province by Grace Irene Cuthbert, of MacLean High School, Maple Ridge, and Janet MacDonald Tupper, Vernon High School, Vernon, who each obtained 91.2 per cent.

In winning the top place in Victoria District Arthur Davies clinches a brilliant educational career in elementary and high school. Ever since he has attended school he has topped his class every year, with the exception of one, and on that occasion he ranked second after he had been advanced two grades instead of one. With leaders in all other districts of the province, Arthur will receive the Royal Institution Scholarship of $150 awarded by the University of British Columbia, which he will use to continue his studies at college. Arthur received all his education in Oak Bay schools.

A total of 5,316 students wrote senior matriculation, junior matriculation and normal entrance examinations in the province. Of 794 who wrote senior matric tests, 320 wrote the full examinations; 192 passed in all subjects, 127 were granted partial standing and one failed. The remaining 474 wrote part of the examinations, 31 completed the course, 340 received partial standing and 103 failed.

Full junior matric and normal examinations were written by 1,542 of the 4,522 candidates. Of these 1,033 passed in all subjects, 507 were given partial standing and two failed.

Of the remaining 2,980 who wrote partial exams, 2,172 received partial standing and 206 failed.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS
Scholarship winners in senior matriculation were: Charles Victor Ryder, Chilliwack High School, 90.9 per cent; Dorothy Jean Philpot, Cranbrook High School, 86.4 per cent; and Nora Ryan, Chilliwack High School, 83.3 per cent.

Winners in junior matric, in addition to Arthur Davies and the previously mentioned girls who were highest in the province, were: Vancouver Island District, Gertrude Lillian Nelson, Lady-smith High School, 90.4 per cent; Vancouver Central District, Kiyoshi Kato, Kitsilano High School, 90.7 per cent; lower mainland, Betty-Doreen Bolduc, Magee High School, 90 per cent; Fraser Valley, Brita Helena Vesterback, Mt. Lehman High School, 86.4 per cent; Yale District, Joyce Kathleen Morris, Pentecost High School, 90.3 per cent; Kootenay District, Roy Vincent Jackson, Creston High School, 89.1 per cent.

In addition to these there were 118 senior and junior matric students who obtained honor standings of more than 80 per cent.

Candidates who failed to pass their examinations will be given credit for all papers in which they obtained 50 per cent or over. Supplemental examinations will be written at the various centres from August 25 to 31.

The following were the successful students on Vancouver Island, listed in alphabetical order, with the exception of Victoria which heads the list.

Crucial Battle Outside Madrid

Loyalists Fight to Regain Lost Part of Salient at Brunete

MADRID (AP)—Crack Spanish government troops massed before Villanueva de la Canada today to halt the drive that swept insurgent troops into Brunete, spearhead of the government's western salient.

Locked in battle for command of the siege lines west of Madrid, insurgent and government commanders threw into combat the greatest war machines yet assembled in the year-old civil war.

Military observers believed the fate of the government's attempt to lift the Madrid siege might hinge on the Villanueva battle. The town, 18 miles west of the capital, is the key to communication lines in the 100-square-mile wedge driven by Gen. Jose Miaja into the insurgent lines.

The government announced Brunete fell before a withering insurgent attack Sunday.

PLANES BUSY
"The enemy displayed formidable resistance and with the aid of its aviation and artillery succeeded in foiling our advance, and captured Brunete," said a government communiqué.

Gen. Francisco Franco's reinforced army east of Brunete drove deep into territory won by the government's two-week offensive and forced Gen. Miaja's troops back with heavy casualties.

Insulin Insanity Cure Succeeds

TORONTO (CP)—The first Ontario hospital patient who has successfully responded to insulin treatments for dementia praecox has been discharged from hospital, according to Dr. Norman L. Easton.

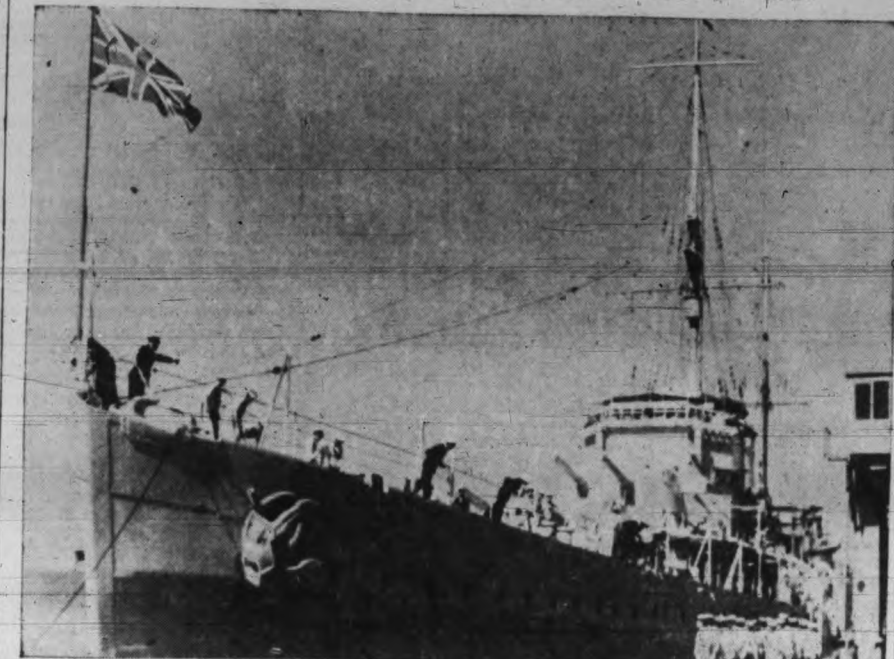

Injection of enough insulin to cause convulsions was made and about three hours later the patient was brought out of the shock. Dementia praecox is characterized by delusions and hallucinations.

CANADA WHEAT LEADER PASSES

TORONTO (CP)—A year to the day after his wife's death Sir Charles Edward Saunders, 70, who won a knighthood by his contributions to Canadian agriculture, died at his home here Sunday. To North American wheat growers in particular and to all agriculturists he will be best remembered for his development of Marquis wheat.

Sir Charles became the first Dominion cerealist when the Canadian government created that post in 1903.

British Cruiser in Harbor for Fleet Week

H.M.S. EXETER

which arrived in Esquimalt Harbor this morning from Bermuda after putting into Port of Spain, Trinidad, to quell labor riots there. The cruiser is berthed at the drydock wharf and will be open to the public for inspection this week. Her schedule rearranged owing to delay at Trinidad, the Exeter will sail August 4 for a nine-month cruise to South America. She will return to the Bermuda station next March.

B.C. GOLFERS ARE FOURTH

Ten Points Behind Leaders at Halfway Point in Willingdon Cup Play

OTTAWA HUNT AND GOLF CLUB, Ottawa-Manitoba took the lead in the provincial team golf competition today for the Willingdon Cup with an 18-hole aggregate score of 368 for the morning round. The westerners were four strokes ahead of Quebec, whose aggregate medal score was 312. Ontario was in third place with 313.

British Columbia, winners of the trophy last year at Winnipeg, finished the morning round with 318 in fourth spot. Behind the Pacific Coast team came Alberta with 323, and Saskatchewan and New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island tied with 343.

Scores of British Columbia players this morning follow: Russ Case 78, Ken Black 79, Ken Lawson 80, Jimmy Todd 81.

British Cruiser Suffered Delay When Ordered to Trinidad to Quell Riots

To the strains of the Canadian national anthem, "The Maple Leaf for Ever," played by the ship's band mustered on the quarterdeck, H.M.S. Exeter glided silently and gracefully to her allotted berth alongside the drydock wharf at 9 this morning from Bermuda.

"Delighted to be here," tersely commented Commodore Henry H. Harwood, O.B.E., in a five-minute interview he granted The Times representative in his quarters immediately after the arrival of the cruiser.

"It will be a pleasure indeed for my officers and men to participate in your 75th anniversary celebration. 'Our only regret is that we cannot stay longer.'"

The introductions were hardly over before Commodore Harwood, who had previously received Commander Charles T. Beard, officer in charge of the Esquimalt dockyard, went ashore to pay his respects to Lieutenant-Governor Eric Hamber at Government House, Premier Pattullo and Mayor Andrew McGavin. Commander Beard was accompanied on his official call by Lieut. Commander F. R. W. Gow, officer of the guard.

As Commodore Harwood walked ashore a salute of 11 guns was fired by the battery at the engineer's wharf in the naval dockyard.

Before leaving the cruiser, Commodore Harwood, who addressed a civic luncheon gathering at the Empress Hotel at the noon hour, made it clear that the public would be at liberty to inspect the warship.

OPEN FOR INSPECTION

The ship will be open for inspection from 3 to 6 today, Tuesday.

BOEING IS TO BUILD BOMBERS

WASHINGTON—The United States War Department announced today award of a contract to the Boeing Aircraft Company, Seattle, for 10 bombers of the "flying fortress" type.

The contract includes an option for an additional three bombers of the same type and spare parts, making a total contract amounting to $3,708,000.

In Command

COMMODORE HENRY H. HARWOOD, O.B.E., OF H.M.S. EXETER

Commodore Harwood started his career in the British navy on H.M.S. Britannia in 1903. He specialized in torpedo work and during the war served on H.M.S. Sutlej, H.M.S. Royal Sovereign and H.M.S. Southampton. He was fleet torpedo officer on the staff of the commander-in-chief in the Mediterranean, and after serving as executive officer on H.M.S. Cumberland took command of H.M.S. Warwick and the ninth destroyer division in 1929. He became commodore, commanding the South American division of the America and West Indies station, September 17, 1936.

RESCUES TWO FROM CATBOAT

Don Calderwood Pulls Pair to Shore in Leaky Skiff

Pulling to the rescue in a leaky nine-foot skiff, Don Calderwood, 945 Clent Street, yesterday took Vincent Casson and Louis Muirhead from their capsized catboat about half a mile from shore in Victoria Harbor.

The mother of Calderwood noticed the two young men in the water in their foundering boat. Unable to secure assistance, Calderwood launched his own boat, despite the fact it was leaking badly and pulled out to the catboat. The sea was running fairly high at the time and he had difficulty getting the two young men into his frail craft until Ss. Olympic, passing by, dumped oil on the water, smoothing the surface to make it possible to effect the rescue.

STRIKE DEATH IN CLEVELAND

One Man Killed in Second Clash of Day at Steel Plant

CLEVELAND, O. (AP)—At least one man was killed and several persons were injured late today in a clash between strikers and workers at the Republic Steel Corporation's Corbin-McKinney plant. All available police squads were rushed to the plant's gates, where rioting earlier in the day had dealt injuries to 20 persons, including two policemen.

It was the first strike death in Cleveland, and today's rioting marked the first major disturbance here since the strike was called and since Republic's four Cleveland mills reopened.

EARLIER CLASH

The first clash occurred when police broke through C.I.O. picket lines. Tom Glowacki, 51-year-old picket, suffered critical injuries when he was run down by a car carrying four men trying to enter the plant.

Two policemen were hurt. Some 1,000 strikers and sympathizers, witnesses said, massed around one of the approaches to the plant's main entrance. About 100 officers, many on horses and on motorcycles, attempted to clear a path.

At first only hoos and catcalls came from the crowd, but as more cars carrying non-strikers passed through the line rocks flew from the strikers, police said.

WARLIKE TONE NOW IN TOKIO

Government Says It Believes Major Conflict With China Is Unavoidable

TOKIO (AP)—The Japanese government expressed fear Monday that a major armed conflict between Japanese and Chinese in North China is now unavoidable.

Emperor Hirohito called Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye, Foreign Minister Koki Hirota, Finance Minister Okinobu Kaya and Field Marshal Prince Kotohito Kanin, chief of the army general staff, to an emergency conference on the situation.

Tokio took on a warlike atmosphere. Developments which followed the new outbreak of hostilities in the North China area were:

1. Premier Konoye called the cabinet into emergency session.
2. War Minister General Gen. Sugiyama told the cabinet it was his intention to deal "most firmly" with the Chinese.
3. The navy department ordered Vice-Admiral Kiyoshi Hasegawa, commander-in-chief of the fleet, to prepare for action.

ST. LAWRENCE DREDGING WILL COST $11,500,000

Contract For Deepening Channel Let at Ottawa; Shipyard Sold

OTTAWA (CP)—A contract has been placed with General Dredging Contractors Ltd. of Montreal to complete the deepening of the St. Lawrence ship channel at a cost of approximately $11,500,000. Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport, announced today.

At the same time the minister stated the entire government dredging fleet and the shipyards at Sorel, Que., had been disposed of to General Dredging Contractors at a price of $1,700,000. The sale and contract provide that those now employed at Sorel shall be kept on by the new owners, at least for the remainder of the present season.

Mr. Howe issued a statement in which he pointed out that the Sorel shipyard and dredging fleet of the Department of Transport will be obsolete when the river deepening is completed.

"Therefore," he continued, "arrangements have been made for the sale of the Sorel shipyard and dredging fleet to General Dredging Contractors Ltd. of Montreal at prices based on an appraisal of the property that has been made by a leading independent appraisal company. . . . A contract for the balance of the dredging recommended by the interdepartmental board has been placed with General Dredging Contractors Ltd. at unit prices recommended by the interdepartmental board and certified by the engineering staff of the ship channel to be fair and reasonable."

Saying the general scale of unit prices for the dredging "is

Council Hears Of Debt Plan

Mayor McGavin, back in his office this morning from his trip to Toronto, in connection with the city's financial interests, was silent on the "minor reservations" with which the Fortin plan on civic debt readjustment was accepted by bondholders.

"I can say nothing until my report goes before the City Council this afternoon," he said.

Before the report went to the full council it was considered a few hours earlier by the finance committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. J. D. Hunter.

TRUCE ON FACTIONALISM

VENDOMME, France (CP-Havas)—Premier Chautemps appealed to the parties and to the people of France Sunday to cooperate in achievement of financial recovery by declaring a truce on premature social reforms and violent political factionalism.

Chinese reports said the Japanese "attacked" the Peiping gate soon after a Japanese ultimatum had demanded that Chinese troops quit Peiping and its environs or face drastic action.

Reports of the new clash followed Japanese air bombardment of the 38th Chinese Divisions at Langfang, midway on the Peiping-Tientsin railroad. The Chinese government central News Agency declared in a Peiping dispatch that Japanese had used machine guns and light artillery in the engagement just outside Peiping's walls.

Chinese defenders patrolling the walls called out reserves, opened the barred gate, rushed out and fought off the attackers, the report said. Chinese estimated the attackers numbered about 500, and said they had come from Fengtai, Japanese field headquarters southwest of Peiping.

PEIPING, China (AP)—Twenty Japanese were killed, their army command said, when three troop lorries were blown up by hand grenades in fighting within Peiping today, near the southwest gate of the walled city. One Chinese policeman was killed and another injured.

TIENTSIN, China (AP)—Japanese army headquarters reported Monday night that fighting was raging at a gate in Peiping's outer wall after Chinese had permitted half a column of Japanese troops to enter the gate and then fired on them.

The Japanese column of about 500 men intended to enter Peiping by the southwest gate to "protect Japanese citizens." The Japanese here said the Chinese announced they would permit the entry, then let half the Japanese troops come in and opened up with machine guns and grenades.

Heavy Japanese casualties were reported both inside and outside the gate.

(There already is a Japanese embassy guard of about 600 men in Peiping.)

(The Japanese news agency, Domei, said at 2 a.m. Tuesday that the fighting continued at the southwest corner of Peiping. The same dispatch, from Tientsin to Shanghai, said the authorities of the Japanese concession at Tientsin had closed the iron gates, isolating the section from the rest of the city, had declared a state of emergency, and had called Japanese volunteers to patrol duty.)

ULTIMATUM REPORTED

Chinese reports said the Japanese "attacked" the Peiping gate soon after a Japanese ultimatum had demanded that Chinese troops quit Peiping and its environs or face drastic action.

Two Chinese and two Japanese army officers left Tientsin on a special train for Langfang to investigate the encounter there.

(At Nanking, China's capital, the Foreign Office expressed indignation.)

Alaska Volcano Reported Active

KING COVE, Alaska (AP)—Mount Pavlov, one of the most active volcanoes on the Alaska Peninsula, spread a thin layer of volcanic ash over this region Sunday and today.

The ash settled as far distant as 50 miles from the peak, which is near here.

Residents said several slight earthquakes had been felt recently, but no damage was reported.

Mount Pavlov, situated west of the Shumagin Islands near longitude 162 degrees, towers 10,000 feet high in a region noted for its violent volcanic eruptions. In the same region are Mt. Shishaldin, Mt. Katmai, Mt. Chignik and Mt. Kagmagil. All have erupted within recent years. Pavlov was violent in 1912, 1914 and 1927.

The area is several hundred miles west of the region currently being disturbed by quakes.

materially lower than prices applying on current contracts," Mr. Howe added: "Work of improving the ship channel will proceed in the order of its urgency as recommended by the interdepartmental board. The amount of work to be performed in any season will depend on the amount of the parliamentary appropriation for that season."

In recent years low water levels in the St. Lawrence River between Montreal and Quebec City have caused anxiety to Montreal shipping interests. There have been cases where it was necessary to lighten cargoes of outbound vessels from Montreal, freight being carried to Quebec by train and reloaded in the ships at that port.

MOTORCYCLE RIDER HURT

Robt. B. Crawford Seriously Injured Yesterday Afternoon

Seriously injured in a crash yesterday afternoon, Robert B. Crawford, 24, of 611 Francis Avenue, motorcycle rider, lay in St. Joseph's Hospital today.

Dr. J. H. Moore, attending the case, stated his injuries included a compound fracture of the right leg, a badly bruised left leg, severe cuts under the chin and about the head and a thumb injury. His condition was not considered critical.

According to the police report the accident occurred at the intersection of Princess Avenue and Douglas Street. Westall Clarke, 770 Queen's Avenue, had been driving south on Douglas Street and was turning to go east on Princess Avenue when his car and the motorcycle, driven north on Douglas by Crawford, collided.

The front of the motor bicycle was badly damaged, the front wheel being twisted out of shape where it had come into contact with the side of the car.

Constable R. Lanning and B. Acreman attended the accident and removed the injured rider to St. Joseph's Hospital, where he was reported to have spent a fairly comfortable night.

His condition was reported fair today.

Jardine Voices More Criticism

English Clergyman Visiting Rochester, N.Y., Attacks Archbishop of Canterbury

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Rev. R. Anderson Jardine, who married the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Simpson in defiance of his ecclesiastical superiors, issued a statement here Sunday in which he said:

"The Osservatore Romano, official Vatican publication, under date of July 23, characterized as 'disgusting' my recent reference to the Archbishop of Canterbury as a 'cad,' made at Baltimore."

"After due reflection I am still at a loss to think of a description which fits Canterbury and his action more perfectly."

"I am not surprised at the Vatican's championship of Canterbury. I welcome it because it proves to the world what we in England have known many years, that the Archbishop was and is too friendly with the Vatican, and is doing more to destroy the work of the Reformation through his high position than anyone else in the Church of England."

Mr. Jardine, who is on a lecture tour, said he had been informed his Canadian sponsors would stand by him, in spite of a reported move by the "powers that be in Canada" to make it impossible to lease an auditorium, unless he would edit criticisms of the Archbishop of Canterbury from his lecture.

Mr. Jardine carried his counter-attack against personal criticism into the enemy camp Sunday night with a challenge to Rt. Rev. A. W. F. Blunt, Bishop of Bradford, to meet him in debate on the subject of pro-Catholic sympathies in Protestant Church of England officialdom.

He had raised the challenge before 100 persons in Convention Hall in the afternoon and repeated it before another 250 in the evening. He pointed out that the Bishop of Bradford "fired the first bullet" leading to the abdication of Edward VIII. The bishop is to speak about September 1 in Toronto, where Mr. Jardine's Thursday lecture is being opposed.

"You see," he explained his challenge, "we have these fellows dragging Protestant money, holding Protestant positions, but engaged in selling out the church through insidious propaganda."

He reiterated his description of the Archbishop of Canterbury as a "cad"—because any person who kicks a man when he's down, or strikes him in the back, is a cad.

LECTURE IN TORONTO

TORONTO (CP)—Rev. A. T. B. Haines, rector of the Church of Christ the King, one of the sponsors of Rev. R. Anderson Jardine's projected Toronto visit, told his congregation Sunday evening the man who married the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Warfield would speak here "in the very near future."

He had been in ill health since the death of his wife and his illness became more serious two months ago. A complication of ailments sent him to his bed two weeks ago and he died at noon Sunday.

Funeral service for the late Sir Charles will be held in Toronto and London, Ont. The service here will be conducted at 2 on Tuesday afternoon. The body will be taken to London, for interment in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

STUDIED MUSIC

Agricultural science seemed destined for a time to lose the work of Charles Saunders when as a young man he turned to music. He studied in the United States and later taught at Haverhill and St. Margaret's women's colleges in Toronto.

But a family tradition seemed stronger and in the 1890's Charles Saunders joined his father, Dr. William Saunders, then head of the Dominion Experimental Farms, and his brother, Perry Saunders, in their experiments with wheat strains.

While by no means his only achievement in agricultural research, the development of Marquis wheat, was Charles Saunders' most sensational contribution. Canada's wheat fields were being opened in the 1890's when the three Saunders did their development work with seeds.

Marquis came about, in part, through the unspectacular chewing of little quantities of wheat. That was the way Sir Charles tested the gluten qualities of different strains and he finally picked a cross between Red Fife, a wheat grown extensively in eastern Canada, and hard Red Calcutta, imported from India by his father.

The new strain almost immediately became widely accepted and today it is grown across the broad acres of Canada's prairies and in the United States. Its production has put millions of dollars into the pockets of growers and grainmen of the two countries and has won world recognition.

Years after the development of Marquis, Sir Charles originated Garnet wheat, a strain more suited to the northern prairies, and it was developed by his successor, L. H. Newman.

During his long years as Dominion cerealist Sir Charles' work for Canadian agriculturists consisted in painstaking sorting of countless varieties of seeds.

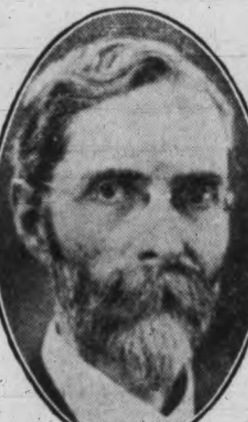

TRIBUTE FROM PREMIER

OTTAWA—The following tribute to the late Sir Charles Saunders, who died Sunday in Toronto, was paid by Prime Minister King, in a statement issued here today.

"In the passing of Sir Charles Saunders, Canada has lost a great public servant. His work in developing new varieties of wheat was a principal factor in the expansion of the Canadian west. It is not too much to say his researches added to the well-being of men and women in all parts of the world."

"The career of Sir Charles Saunders, characterized by modesty and a desire to serve his fellows, was directed to enhancing the bounty of nature, not as is too frequently the case today, to ends of destruction and greed. His name will always have its association with those great scientists who have devoted their skill and learning to the advancement of human welfare."

Served Canada

THE LATE SIR CHARLES SAUNDERS

With the capture of Brunete, the insurgents turned their eyes northward toward Villanueva de la Canada. Loss of that town would mean also the loss of Quijorna by the government for Valdemorillo, at the mouth of the government salient, only through Villanueva de la Canada.

NIGHT AIR BATTLE

The Brunete battle raged all day Sunday and far into the night government squadrons took to the air when insurgent airmen swooped low over the government lines, spitting lead.

Three Fiat (Italian) fighting planes were reported shot down in one encounter with government patrols, while official reports said the government lost only one.

Elsewhere in the western sector the government said its lines held firm with only "minor rectifications" of the front and asserted the morale of its troops remained at a high pitch.

Insurgent reports claimed far heavier casualties had been inflicted on the government's air forces than Gen. Miaja admitted, with 15 planes shot down in Sunday's battle alone.

The chief of staff of Gen. Franco's Salamanca headquarters, Gen. Francisco Martin Moreno, broadcast a report that a total of 106 government planes had been shot down in the last 19 days, 91 by insurgent airmen and 15 by anti-aircraft batteries.

He said the government air forces had suffered so heavily Madrid's planes now "are making only the briefest appearances" in the western engagement.

ST. PASCAL, Que. (CP)—A rally planned by Quebec's new National Party was broken up Sunday in this Kamouraska County town by nearly 200 hecklers.

nation at the "Japanese action." The capital heard reports that Chinese were taking up new positions and strengthening their forces south of Peiping, indicating there was no intention to bow to the Japanese ultimatum.

BIG CASUALTY LIST

At Langfang, Japanese bombs and machine guns took toll.

Early Monday morning, after a battle had raged for several hours, Japanese reinforcements of men and planes arrived. Chinese officers said that 17 Japanese war planes subjected the Chinese Langfang garrison of about 1,000 troops to such punishment they were forced to withdraw after 12 hours.

Chinese casualties were believed several hundred. Japanese officially listed fewer than 10 dead.

Lieut. Gen. Kioyshi Katsuki, commander-in-chief of the Japanese forces in north China, was declared to have served an ultimatum on the 29th Chinese Army demanding all troops be withdrawn from Peiping and the surrounding area by noon Wednesday.

"Non-compliance with this demand," the Domei (Japanese) news agency reported Katsuki write Gen. Sung Chieh-yuan, commander of the 29th army, "will compel the Japanese army to take all steps necessary" to force their removal.

Royal Duchess In Car Crash

LONDON (AP)—The Duchess of Kent and her two small children narrowly escaped injury tonight when their motor car collided with another at Wrotham Hill, in Kent.

Windows of the royal car were smashed and the Duchess had to send to Maidstone for another car to continue her trip to her summer cottage in Sandwich.

The Duke was not in the car.

Gen. Sung, who is also head of the semi-autonomous Hopeh-Chahar Political Council, had refused the ultimatum and ordered the 29th "not to withdraw, but to resist."

Katsuki's headquarters announced all available Japanese strength—including bombing planes—had been assembled for punitive action against Chinese troops.

Chinese reports stated the Japanese had dispatched reinforcements to their Wanpinghsien positions 10 miles west of Peiping this morning after news was received of the Langfang clash.

Woman Is Making Long Canoe Trip

NAMU, B.C. (CP)—Miss Annette Lowman, 22-year-old University of Washington co-ed, making a lone canoe trip from Anacortes, Wash., to Ketchikan, Alaska, left this northern British Columbia fishing village yesterday on her way north. She arrived here from the Goose Bay Cannery, Rivers Inlet, Saturday night.

Miss Lowman began the long trip in an Indian dugout canoe from Anacortes on June 15. A girl companion was forced to abandon the journey in its early stages because of ill-health.

Namu is a small fishing and cannery centre on the British Columbia mainland, 400 miles due north of Seattle, Wash. It is protected from the open Pacific by a string of islands.

Seattle Cruiser First In Race

"Kittiwake" Named Over-all
Winner in International Contest

VANCOUVER — Commodore F. A. Harvey's Kittiwake of the Queen City Yacht Club of Seattle was named "over-all" winner of the international "capital-to-capital" cruiser race, after a protest displaced A. C. St. John's Vendovi of the Olympic Yacht Club.

Judge Roy D. Coy of Seattle upheld the protest of Mr. Harvey, that there had been a 20-minute error in the noting of his starting time at Port Madison, 12 miles from Seattle, from where the boats began their 135-mile test early Saturday.

The race, in which 37 boats competed, is figured on the best estimate of running time, over the course at a given speed. Engines are set at the speed indicated by the competitors and sealed, then the owner estimates how long it will take him to travel the course.

The Kittiwake won the "overall" with 1,238.0 percentage of error, the best estimate in the five classes.

Class one, for boats under 40 feet in length, went to the Commodore, owned by C. H. Bolin of the Queen City Yacht Club, whose percentage of error was 2.1376. Jaro, owned by Leslie F. Marshall of the Burrard Yacht Club, Vancouver, was second with a percentage of error of 2.7538; third came Dutch Maid, owned by E. E. Davis of the Queen City Yacht Club, with a percentage of error of 2.9361.

In class two, for boats over 40 feet, the Vandovi, the same craft which was shoved out of the "overall" berth by a protest, came first, with a percentage of error of 1.4903, being closely followed by Tom Mair's Dorothy III of the Tacoma Yacht Club, whose percentage of error was 1.5711. Roy L. Maryatt's Bowlyn of the Seattle Yacht Club with a percentage of error of 1.6463.

F. M. Mohr's Lady Mohr of the Queen City Yacht Club captured first place in class three for boats with a speed of 12 knots or over. Mohr's percentage of error was 10.8949.

The Billy Bob, owned by W. J. Allen of Nanaimo, B.C., was the second British Columbia boat to place, taking second in class two with a percentage of error of 17.2863.

The Triton, owned by the Sea Scouts of America with headquarters at Tacoma, was the only boat competing in the Sea Scouts special class and finished with a percentage of error of 2.7761.

Of the 37 entries, only one boat, the Dawn of Victoria, B.C., dropped from the race. She developed engine trouble.

H.M.S. EXETER HERE TO PARTICIPATE IN FLEET WEEK EVENTS

day, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, and on Tuesday next week. Ratings will be under orders to guide the visitors and point out the interesting features of the cruiser.

On Friday an "At Home" will be held aboard the ship and on Saturday, Sunday and Monday the drydock yard will be closed to the public owing to the dry-docking of the liner Empress of Canada. On Wednesday, August 4, the Exeter will sail on a nine months' cruise which will take her to South America, through the Straits of Magellan and back to Bermuda, where she expects to arrive next March.

A week will be spent at San Francisco on the outward trip and Christmas Day will be celebrated at Buenos Aires.

AWED RIOTERS

The stay of the Exeter on the British Columbia Coast has been cut short because of the delay the cruiser experienced in being ordered to Trinidad to assist in quelling the labor riots there.

The Trinidad strike originated in the oil plants there, when the workers demanded an increase in wages, and the trouble quickly spread to every branch of industry on the West Indies island.

Two whites, including a policeman, and 12 natives were reported killed in the rioting which ensued.

The Exeter was ordered to proceed to Port of Spain to assist the local authorities in restoring order, and marines and bluejackets were landed from the cruiser to patrol the disturbed area.

The Exeter left Port of Spain on July 5, leaving H.M.S. Ajax there in case further trouble broke out.

PLANES PREPARED

As the big two-funnelled warship docked here to-day she was the scene of feverish activity.

The ship had hardly been made fast to the bollards before the catapults nesting the ship's two Walrus amphibians immediately abate the after funnel were swung out on both port and starboard sides and the planes made ready for launching. It was merely an exercising manoeuvre, however, for the catapults are not used when the vessel is in harbor. They are lowered into the water by crane. The Vickers-built single-engine four-bladed planes will be seen flying over the city during the stay of the ship in port.

Whistles shrilled and seamen in orderly fashion lowered the diving boat from its davits and rowed about the ship's stern. Just another practice move, it was explained by officers.

The welcoming formalities over the officers retired to the ship's wardroom, where mail from home awaited perusal.

First shore leave was given the ship's company this afternoon, and the sailors set out to see the city.

H.M.S. Exeter was laid down at Devonport August 1, 1928, and launched in July, 1929.

She displaces 8,400 tons, has a length of 540 feet, 58 feet beam, and is powered by steam turbines of 80,000 horsepower, capable of a speed of 32 knots.

Her main armament consists of six eight-inch guns, four three-pounder guns, four four-inch anti-aircraft guns, two two-pounder pom-poms, a Lewis gun and six torpedo tubes.

Two eight-inch turrets are located forward, one firing over the other, and one aft. The ship's eight-inch guns fire a shell weighing 254 pounds a distance of 14 miles.

Besides Commodore H. H. Harwood, O.B.E., commander of the South American division of the America and West Indies station, the cruiser's officers include Commander C. P. Clarke, Commander C. E. Simms, Lieut. Commander F. B. Beasley, Paymaster-Commander H. B. John, M.B.E., Paymaster-Lieut. V. G. H. Weekes, Lieut. Commander J. B. Jennings, Lieut. Commander C. J. Smith, Lieut. Commander J. P. Hunt, Lieut. Commander T. H. Hill-Walker, Capt. G. W. Ross, Rev. G. F. Grove, B.A., and Surgeon-Lieut. R. W. G. Lancashire.

The cruiser carries a complement of 47 officers and 563 men.

SMALL KETCH BOUND HERE

Twenty-three-footer Queen Mary From Dartmouth, N.S., at San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Cal.—The 23-foot ketch Queen Mary, with Capt. W. A. Crowell, Dartmouth, N.S., and his dog, Togo, aboard, refitted here over the week-end after a year-long battle with the sea.

The tiny craft, bound from Halifax, N.S., to Vancouver, B.C., sailed from Halifax, July 16, Captain Crowell went to sea at the age of 11 on square-riggers.

The Queen Mary lay to for 55 hours off Cape Hatteras while a storm washed everything movable overboard. She passed through the Panama Canal en route here.

GIRLS SHOW SAILING SKILL

Jean Morrison and Molly Unsworth Pilot Ripples and Tern to Victory

Jean Morrison, piloting the star Ripples, and Molly Unsworth, at the tiller of the dinghy Tern, crossed the finishing line first in their respective classes in Saturday's yachting events at Cabbro Bay.

It was ladies' day at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club and the girl skippers, as was to be expected, put on an exciting marine show.

A stiff southwesterly breeze fully tested the capabilities of the fair sailors. The stars were in difficulties at the start. Mintaka carried away three shrouds as she went over the starting line and was forced out of the running. Aura was disqualified when she fouled the beach mark first time around.

Dinghy Kismet snapped off her mast at the base when she broke a stay as she rounded the beach buoy on the first lap, and had to be towed in by Vice-Commodore E. P. Ashe in the Idle Hour.

The course was triangular from the club to Flower Island, on to the beach mark and back home, twice around. A quartette of stars started, but only two finished, Ripples being closely followed by Aquila.

On the first round the stars lined up as follows: Ripples, Jean Morrison, 3.27.30; Aquila, Dorothy Ganner, 3.28.40; Mintaka, Mrs. W. T. M. Barrett; Aura, Lilian Harrison. Finishing times: Ripples, 3.49.31; Aquila, 3.50.52.

The dinghies were well bunched together when they got away, and for a time it looked like a walkaway for Falcon, sailed by Joan Golby. She led the parade all the way on the first time around and had a good margin at the beach mark, but Tern, skippered by Molly Unsworth, put on a spurt and beat her to the finish mark.

Dinghies made the first round as follows: Falcon, Joan Golby, 3.23.10; Tern, Molly Unsworth, 3.24.07; Bandicoot, Margaret Lindsay, 3.24.43; Onaway, Mrs. M. Enke, 3.24.53; Penguin, Mrs. D. Cummins, 3.25.35; Tahiti, L. Graves, 3.26.42; Dabchick, Roranna Gillespie, 3.27.42.

Finishing times: Tern, 3.42.32; Falcon, 3.43.05; Bandicoot, 3.48.38; Onaway, 3.48.48; Penguin, 3.49.52; Tahiti, 3.53.45; Dabchick, 3.54.14.

Mrs. Frank M. Ohrt, wife of the club commodore, was the officer of the day.

On Sunday the whole club enjoyed a picnic on Discovery Island, sail and power boats taking part in the excursion.

Sloops Ready For America's Cup Race

First Test of Series Between Endeavour II and Ranger
On Saturday

NEWPORT, R.I.—Off the rugged coast of Newport the 16th match for the America's Cup, coveted yachting trophy, will get under way next Saturday with the first race of a series between T. O. M. Sopwith's British challenger Endeavour II and Harold S. Vanderbilt's defender Ranger.

The series, in which four races out of seven are necessary to win, brings the competition to its peak. Since 1851 Canadians, Englishmen, Scots and Irishmen have striven to take away the silver prize captured by the schooner America in a race around the Isle of Wight, off the south of England.

This time the battle is between two of the swiftest racing sloops ever built in the America's Cup class. Sopwith's blue-hulled challenger was launched in England last summer. The giant white-hulled defender Ranger has not been defeated since she took the water last May.

The courses of 30 miles each will have their starting and finishing lines at a special buoy nine miles southeast of Brenton lightship, the old red guardian beacon to Newport harbor, and the easterly entrance of Narragansett Bay.

The contests will be sailed on weekdays, weather permitting. The first will be 15 miles to windward and return, and the second triangular with 10 miles to the leg, or side. The start each day will be 9.40 a.m. P.S.T.

SOPWITH'S SECOND TRY

It is Sopwith's second try for the cup. In 1934 the British airplane manufacturer won the first two races of the series with Endeavour I, but Vanderbilt, then defending for the second time, handled Rainbow with mastery strategy to take the next four straight.

The two sleek vessels are of practically equal size and sail spread, built to the top of the cup class, both of steel with solid steel shrouds. Endeavour II carries JHK 6 at the top of the mainsail and Ranger J5.

This journey is the third since boat-for-boat competition was adopted in 1871 that the yachts have not raced on time allowance, the first match being between Enterprise and Shamrock V in 1930 and the second in 1934 between Rainbow and Endeavour.

It may be the last America's Cup series raced with such costly craft. Both vessels are built to the limit of the new internationally famous J class, but some yachting quarters are ready to sponsor smaller craft for cup competition.

G. Shannon, Marine Engineer, Passes

VANCOUVER—Gower Gordon Shannon, 60-year-old marine engineer, formerly on Canadian Pacific "Empress" liners died in hospital here Saturday.

Shannon was born in Owen Sound, Ont., and came to British Columbia 33 years ago. For the last 22 years he had been employed as outside foreman with Burrard Iron Works Ltd., here. He is survived by his widow.

Navy Week

IT IS FITTING THAT VICTORIA SHOULD observe Navy Week. For from our earliest days as a community, the Navy has been integrated with the life of Victoria. During the last half of last century we had at Esquimalt the base for the North Pacific Squadron of the British Navy. Since 1905, when Canada took over the base from Britain, and the beginning of the Canadian Navy in 1910, we have had Esquimalt as the home port of the Canadian Navy on the Pacific. Although the representation of our Canadian Navy in men and equipment has been comparatively small, as navies these days go, it has followed its British predecessor in making vital and permanent contributions to the life of the community.

Navy Week provides the occasion for public expression of pride in our fleet; also, the occasion for the public to learn through closer contact more about the officers and men and the vessels they man. It is well for the public to know about the Navy, as in a democracy such as this, the Navy must have public opinion behind it. We are sure that the more our people know of our Navy and its men, the more solidly they will be behind them. With such an objective, three years ago Mr. David Leeming as mayor and Mr. P. R. Brown as alderman conceived the idea of instituting an annual Navy Week in Victoria to bring the public and the Navy closer together. Its success from every standpoint has established it as a permanent feature of the summer season in Victoria.

Interest is added to this week by the arrival today of H.M.S. Exeter of the West Indies Squadron of the British Navy with 600 officers and men under the popular Captain (Commodore) Henry Harwood Harwood, O.B.E. It is not necessary for us to assure them they are welcome and that we feel honored in having them with us for their all-too-short visit of 10 days.

Shakespeare on the Air

THE NATIONAL AND COLUMBIA broadcasting chains have gone strong for Shakespeare on the summer air. The New York Post suggests their earnestness merits a Stratford-on-Avon cup for the winner. In their competition for the public's acclaim, the chains have given us John Barrymore in "Twelfth Night" and Leslie Howard in "Much Ado About Nothing." They gave them simultaneously, too. None of this business of enjoying both programmes.

This is a curious hysteria; it may represent only summer desperation in making programmes. Possibly, however, it is more than that. Shakespeare is a rising young script writer. The Gielgud "Hamlet" and the Evans "King Richard II" were authentic smash hits on Broadway last fall. Some one has calculated that if Shakespeare were living today he would have collected $200,000 in royalties last winter alone. That is important money.

The radio does strange things to Shakespeare. By cutting him ("streamlining" is the studio word) it makes the plot unintelligible, but by removing the distraction of the stage setting and movement it makes each line sharp. The loss in terms of lines not grasped by the listener is probably 25 per cent from the stage; on the radio it is nearer 10 per cent. That is something for science to have accomplished.

New Light on Luck

DESPITE THE PIOUS PLATITUDE that "people make their own luck," etc., the facts of history record countless instances of luck which have been plain and unadulterated by tinges of higher morality. Gamblers, for instance, know that some of their profession are so lucky that it's suspicious.

Some months ago Prof. J. B. Rhone, a serious-minded scholar, according to the New York Post, determined to satisfy his own curiosity as to whether telepathy was a fake, a fancy or a fact. In a series of experiments at Duke University he produced startling results. Students were asked to guess cards turned up from a freshly shuffled pack. After hundreds of tests, in which many students participated, Professor Rhone found that some had shown uncanny perception in guessing the cards, an accuracy far beyond any relationship with the laws of chance. Several students could guess the correct turn through an entire pack of 52 cards.

Now comes word of further experiments, some with specially prepared cards, some with other devices, some from Duke and some from New York University, all confirming the same conclusions: That some persons are uncannily gifted in a telepathic way.

And here is where luck comes in. Is it not quite possible that startling runs of luck, the consistent winning of some gamblers, the "Midas touch" of some financiers are due to possession of the telepathic sense, to ability of mind, so far unexplained, by which they are enabled to anticipate the flip of the card, or, perhaps, read the minds of others for knowledge by which they benefit?

Making Friends at the Border

IN THE LATEST ISSUE OF THE NATIONAL REVENUE REVIEW, Ottawa, organ of the Federal Customs Department, we notice under the heading, "The Right Hand of Fellowship":

"To encourage tourist travel in Canada by residents of other countries has long been the aim of this department. Visitors who enter by automobile or other conveyance are made to feel they are welcome by the little acts of personal consideration and courtesy extended them by Customs officers. To speed a tourist on his holiday way with a minimum of delay, and with tactful assistance in the observance of the necessary regulations, should be the goal of all officers at border points. Protection of the revenue is of course necessary, but that can be done quietly and tactfully. Officers at the large and small border ports and outposts can do much to make the visitors feel that they are really welcome, and are entering a friendly and neighborly land. A smile and the right hand of fellowship go a long way."

In the fact that the department has adopted such a far-sighted policy, carried out with intelligence by the uniformed Customs men, is to be found the secret of the absence of friction here and at other border points during this year of exceptionally heavy vacation travel. In wholesale quantities out of the tourist flow, our Customs men are making new friends for Canada.

Adrift

MR. BENNETT, BACK FROM THE CORONATION, is indefinite about his future as leader of the Conservative party. Indications point to a national convention of the party at which leadership will be discussed and an effort made to formulate a policy to accord with the needs of the country. Feeling in favor of such a move is said to have been stimulated by the results of the recent provincial elections in Nova Scotia, when the Conservative party lost ground after a campaign in which federal issues were a factor. These results, according to the Ottawa correspondent of Toronto Saturday Night, suggest strongly that the Conservative party cannot hope to make much headway with the voters until its future course in federal matters is less obscure. It is felt at present nobody knows where the ship is or whither she ought to sail.

There is a fear the federal Conservatives are largely discredited as advocates of "advanced" labor policies by the distressing way in which they left Mr. Bennett to fight his own battle in 1935. The party has to bear the odium of caring little for social reform when advocated by its leader. This is seen as unfortunate at a time when Ontario and some other parts of the country are becoming more labor conscious.

Fishing versus Quints

ALMOST EVERY DISTRICT IN THIS country has its feature attraction: these days, good for so many tourists a year. Occasionally, however, a locality has two big drawing cards, and their competition is likely to develop some amusing situations.

From Ontario, homeland of the Dionne quintuplets, comes a brave statement from D. J. Taylor, Deputy Minister of Game and Fisheries, to the effect that more tourists invaded the province in the good fishing seasons of 1928-29 than in any comparable period since the birth of the five famous sisters.

In view of the world interest in the quints, many Ontario residents may consider this statement nothing less than open heresy. Nevertheless, it seems that Mr. Taylor would be certain of a share of victory if there is any argument. For, with the quints steadily gaining in popularity, Ontario is going to need a good man to keep its fishing properly press-agented. From the start he has made, Mr. Taylor is going to be just the man for the job.

From Dr. Beno Paul, pioneer European allergist, comes the news that "only cultured people, in general, have hay fever and other allergic diseases." Such maladies, he says, seem to be transmitted in certain social groups; city people, for instance, apparently being more susceptible than country folk. What benefits humanity will derive from these data are not immediately discernible. There is a hazy suggestion of some circuitous connection between people who study, and the "genus bookworm."

FINDING OUT

NOW, AT LAST, I am just beginning to find out what has been happening in these parts during the last five months while I have been in Europe. (And don't you just adore people who insist on talking about their appendectomies? Well, I am about through with all that now and will soon be back on my normal diet of wild economics and traffic lights and the Poor Little White Bear in Beacon Hill.)

Well, I'm just finding out what has been happening here and I am bound to say the newspapers seem to have suppressed most of it.

"The way it was," said Mrs. Noggins, reviewing the inside story of the general election, "my old man and me were split as usual—you know 'e allus was a Tory at heart and I've been a Liberal for thirteen generations, and my grandfather once shook Gladstone by the 'and, or was it Asquith? I dunno, but it don't matter, because they're all dead now, even my grandfather, though 'e was a tough 'un, a bottle-a-day man and two on Saturday."

"Well, wot I mean is, there was no use my old man goin' to the polls and votin' Tory and me goin' and votin' Grit. It would just leave the vote the same. So we agreed honorable to stay 'ome altogether and not vote at all, which I must say was a bit of a disappointment to me, because I allus do enjoy the free ride to the votin' place out at Marigold and I allus let the Tories take me so's to save the Grits' time, and them so busy. I mean just because a nice young Conservative fella drives you to the polls there's no need to change your principles."

"Well, along in the afternoon of pollin' day, the old man goes to town and I was suspicious from the start because he didn't ask me for no money to buy a couple at the beer-parlor. I should of known. When I come out of the pollin' station after votin' such a nice young Conservative fella drove me out and me votin' Liberal—well, when I come out who should I meet but my old man comin' in. 'That, I says, 'im, quite impertinent, 'that, I says, 'is the kind of dirty trick you'd expect from a Tory.' Then I sweep out like a queen. But I will say, I was a little embarrassed, as you might say, bein' caught in the very act of votin', as it were. So you might say Mr. Noggins didn't 'ave much effect on the election."

FAIRIES

MORE ALARMING still, was the news from next door. "Something has gone wrong, all right," said the little boy from next door, "because when I put the last two teeth under my pillow the fairies didn't bring me any nickel at all."

"Phooey," said his sister.

"You know what I'm beginning to think?" said he. "I'm beginning to think, maybe, there aren't any fairies really at all."

His sister winked at me in a sinister fashion and displayed the latest acquisition in her vocabulary.

"Or vice versa," she said.

"Sometimes," said he, "I think maybe there isn't even any Santa Claus even."

Five months can bring a lifetime of disillusionment.

BAD NEWS

AND I NOTE that the last of the great maples that used to flank the lawns of the Parliament Buildings, are dying, leafless and sapless and forlorn. This fall they will have to be cut down and it is plain that my long campaign to secure some systematic feeding of their roots, starved for fifty years under the lawns, has failed like my campaign to release the Poor Little White Bear. All my campaigns fail. If any cause wants to succeed, it should bribe this column to attack it. Support from here, as poor Ursus Kermode discovered, is invariably fatal.

The least thing the government of British Columbia can do (if and its predecessors having starved the maples to death) is to plant some new trees which will be worth looking at a long time after all current statemen have ceased to be.

OPEN SEASON

IT WAS GOOD to find, also, that my good friend the Major has been keeping up his lovely but heroic campaign to fight down the rash of illegal advertising signs on our Island Highways. It is now the Major's open season on signs. He goes out at dead of night with a torch (a legal form of pitamping) and tears down all the signs he can find.

"I've just shot my 23rd bird," the Major told me. It's a more economical sport, he says, than grouse shooting, and you know you've done something for your country. I recommend the Major's sport to all patriots.

GOVERNOR-GENERALITIES

From The Windsor Star
Always humorous Lord Tweedsmuir can be depended on for a spark of laughter when he speaks. Addressing a group recently at Kingston, the Governor-General mentioned that he could not talk on subjects of political contention. He added that he was hedged about in his speaking, saying, "In fact I am confined to Governor-Generalities."

BOOSTING CIRCULATION

From Chicago Daily News
All members of the Fascist party in Italy must subscribe to Mussolini's newspaper, the Popolo d'Italia, according to an order just promulgated by Gen. Starace, the party head. And it is well understood in Germany that all Nazis, and indeed all Germans, must buy at least one copy of Hitler's book, "Mein Kampf." Hitler does not need to receive money from the state. He can live well on his book royalties. Now Mussolini will have an even larger personal income from the newspaper.

Japan's Superb Acting

By YONE ZUMI, B.A.

EVEN to a casual student of Far Eastern politics, a major conflict between China and Japan is, all appearances to the contrary notwithstanding, a very remote possibility.

In 1931, China as a bystander in a life-and-death struggle between the army and the civilian authorities of the Island Empire, sustained an injury that led to the amputation of Manchuria.

Today, China is again the scapegoat of Japan's domestic politics. She is drawn into and assigned the role of a villain in a play intended to hypnotize the people of Japan to believing that their country is in a state of grave emergency, necessitating their own disputes and grievances to be set aside.

The beginning of Japan's political disruption may be traced back to the London Naval Treaty of 1930. Its ratification was accompanied by an occurrence of unprecedented nature. The cabinet advised the Emperor in favor of ratification, the military leaders against it, thus splitting the oligarchy into two armed camps. In the deadlock that followed, the Privy Council sided with the cabinet. The fighting services received a severe blow.

Since then the paramount issue in Japanese politics has been: Who has the last say in matters of national defence, the cabinet or the supreme command? The Manchurian venture launched by the army in defiance of the civilian authorities was essentially a test case in this constitutional issue. The assassinations of Premiers Inukai and Hamaguchi were its by-products. The wholesale assassinations of February 26, 1936, were the final culmination of this bitter controversy.

This tragic denouement gave occasion for the Japanese oligarchy to pause and reflect. Their prolonged strife was not only deteriorating their prestige and authority, but seriously undermining national solidarity. And again the results of the last general election forcibly brought home to them the urgent necessity of composing their differences and of working in unison to arrest the forces of disintegration, if they were to avoid domestic upheaval.

JAPAN'S true objective in the present North China crisis is not acquisition of new territories. To be sure, she has an eye on the natural resources, more particularly the coal and iron deposits of Hopei and Chahar, but an access to them can be better attained by means other than recourse to war. She has no more intention, under any circumstances, of declaring war upon China than she has of wasting her ammunition upon a wounded fawn when a grizzly bear is near. Her real purpose is to make her play-acting as convincing as possible so that she can divert the attention of her people from internal dissensions. This she is doing with intense seriousness, and so far, with consummate finesse.

Parallel Thoughts

For the poor shall never cease out of the land: therefore I command thee, saying, Thou shalt open thine hand wide unto thy brother, to thy poor, and to thy needy, in thy land.—Deuteronomy 15:11.

Yet every precedent we are told not to break was established by breaking another precedent.

HEPBURN VS. KING

From the Halifax Herald, owned by Senator Dennis (Con.)

One feels like congratulating Mr. Mackenzie King on Mr. Hepburn's decision to be against him. For whatever Mr. King and his party may lose politically as a result of the Hepburn defection, the prime minister certainly is not lowered thereby in the estimation of the Canadian people.

The Halifax Herald is no political supporter of Mr. Mackenzie King, but this newspaper does believe in decency and fairness; and when it comes to a choice between the prime minister of this country and the politician who has just "broken" with him, we will take Mr. King every time. And this attack, launched by Mr. Hepburn at the moment when the prime minister of Canada is out of this country on important Empire affairs, is as ill-timed as it is ungracious.

And fancy Mitchell Hepburn talking about "vacillation" in someone else! The trouble with Mr. Hepburn is, he has a "John L. Lewis" complex—a complex that has developed into an obsession. He talks about "foreign invasion" by the Lewis unions, when he knows that the majority of organized labor in this country has been international in character for decades. He worries about

Better English

By D. C. WILLIAMS

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "This book is mighty interesting."
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "predecessor"?
3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Spherical, skilful, spontaneous.
4. What does the word "penetrative" mean?
5. What is a word beginning with pro that means "inclination; tendency"?

Answers
1. Say, "This book is very interesting." 2. Pronounce pre-dec-essor; first e as in bed preferred, principal accent on third syllable. 3. Skilful, or skilful. 4. Piercing. "His look became keen and penetrating."—Hawthorne. 5. Proclivity.

"foreign invasion" by labor—but conveniently forgets that much of the capital in industry in this Dominion is also from "foreign" sources.

For our own part, we like consistency and fair play. And if the King government has refused to go along with Mr. Hepburn in his "foreign labor" complex and obsession, it should not be charged with "vacillation" but heartily commended for its commonsense.

NAME JUDGES FOR FALL FAIR

Experts Chosen to Award Points in Various Sections of Exhibition

Experts from various parts of British Columbia, well schooled in determining the points of competing entries, will judge Victoria's fall fair classes at the Willows from September 11 to 18, W. H. Mearns, secretary, announced today.

Several will come from the University of British Columbia, others from the various departments of the provincial government and some will be private citizens outstanding in the particular fields over which they will have jurisdiction.

The personnel of the judging staff recorded to date, preceded by the groups they will judge, include: Livestock, Jerseys, Prof. H. M. King, U.B.C.; Holsteins, H. L. Stevens, Stevenson, B.C.; beef cattle, John Napier, Odessa, Washington; Ayreshires, John Young, U.B.C.; Guernseys, R. H. Unsworth, Sardis, B.C.; horses, horse show, Dr. Sparrow, Vancouver, Provincial Government of Livestock; heavy horses, George P. Jackson, Salmon Arm; boys' and girls' activities, R. G. Sutton, District Agriculturist.

SALES TAX SOON IN SASKATCHEWAN

REGINA — Saskatchewan's 2 per cent sales tax will become effective August 2 next. The date was announced at the week-end by Premier Patterson.

All merchants in the province must be licensed by that date or cease business, with a bar against their buying from wholesalers. Twelve thousand licenses have been issued up to this time. Merchants will become treasury officers and receive 4 per cent of total amount of tax they collect.

The administrative board has issued regulations covering collection of the tax on purchases made outside the province.

Meals sold in hotels, restaurants, and to six persons or more not of the family in boarding houses, and draft beer by the glass will bear the tax.

Plans Made For Ottawa Session

Parliament Date Not Yet Set, But Bills Being Drafted

OTTAWA (CP) — Although Prime Minister King has stated, since his return from the Imperial Conference, that he sees "no reason" for a fall session of Parliament. Preparations for the next session, whatever the date, are already under way.

Meetings of the cabinet held since the return of the Prime Minister and his colleagues from London, and those to be held from now on, will all have a bearing on the parliamentary programme and it is rumored several important pieces of legislation are being considered.

Tariff changes will loom large at the next session unless something occurs in the meantime to alter the government's policy of steadily moving toward lessened restrictions on international trade.

Status of the Empire agreements negotiated at Ottawa in 1932 will also be due for consideration, except that with the United Kingdom which was revised and ratified anew at the last session. Further conversations on this question will take place apart from the larger questions of Empire economy discussed at the recent conference in London.

NEW ZEALAND FACT
An agreement with New Zealand is now awaiting ratification and one with Australia is a subject of communications following the visit to that country of Trade Minister W. D. Euler last winter. It is expected to be completed soon.

Company laws, on which a Dominion-Provincial committee is now working, will probably be the subject of a new legislation, also the move to enlarge the jurisdiction of the board of railway commissioners which was rejected in the Senate at the last session.

It is possible the Prime Minister will call a Dominion-Provincial conference late this fall, this having been the custom now for several years. Possibly, however, if the royal commission on economic relations between provinces and Dominion is functioning the usual conference will be omitted this year.

Paper Workers Make Requests

Men in Plants at Ocean Falls and Powell River Form Unions

POWELL RIVER, B.C. (CP) — American Federation of Labor organizers, claiming unionization of British Columbia's largest pulp and paper mills, today they were ready to open negotiations with mill operators.

John Sherman of Port Angeles, Wash., member of the executive council of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Papermill Workers, made the announcement as he prepared to leave here with James Killam, British Columbia representative of the union, to negotiate with mill operators in Vancouver.

The A. F. of L. representatives claimed 850 unionized workers at the Crown-Zellerbach plant at Ocean Falls and 1,300 supporters at the Powell River plant, representing practically the entire payroll, outside of office workers, at both points.

They said negotiations would be opened in Vancouver July 29. While demands were not announced officially, it was reported here they would include a 62 cents an hour basic wage rate — the union wage scale now in effect in the United States Pacific western district — and time and a half for overtime.

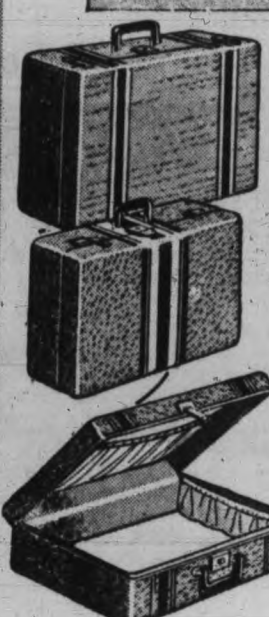

At the Ocean Falls plant organizers said 150 were members of Local 360 of the International Brotherhood of Papermakers and 700 belonged to Local 512 of the Pulp, Sulphite and Papermill Workers.

Vital Statistics For Six Months

OTTAWA (CP) — The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports births registered in 67 cities and towns having populations of 10,000 and over during the six months ended June 30 totaled 40,250, a decline of 40 from the same period in 1936. Deaths numbered 28,479, an increase of 7 per cent compared with 26,690, and marriages totaled 16,756, a gain of 6 per cent, against 15,779 in the first six months of 1936.

Birth registered during June numbered 7,218, an increase of 8 per cent, compared with 6,673 in June, 1936, while deaths totaled 4,510, an increase of 11

HITCH-HIKE TO B.C. COAST

Two Niagara Falls Boys Got Rides From Over 100
Motorists

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two 17-year-old high school students from Niagara Falls, Ont., were on the B.C. coast today, having completed a 22-day hitch-hiking trip from their home to visit relatives here.

The youths, Stanley Levine and Charles Dangelmajer, left Niagara Falls July 2, carrying two small tents and two blankets. When they arrived here Saturday they said they had been given rides by more than 100 motorists, the longest being from Lexington, Neb., to Salt Lake City, a distance of 775 miles.

The boys visited Stanley's grandmother, Mrs. F. L. Eng-blom, here and then left for Salt Spring Island to visit his uncle, Melvin MacSpadden. They plan to stay in British Columbia two weeks, then work their way home by freighter via the Panama Canal, or hitch-hike back by a southern route through San Francisco and Denver, Colo.

Nanaimo Man Dies Of Bullet Wound

NANAIMO (CP) — George Beghoff, Russian-born coal miner, died in a hospital Sunday night from a rifle bullet wound.

He was taken to the hospital after his son had found him lying in a pool of blood with a bullet wound in his right temple. The gun, a hunting rifle, was beside him.

Police said the miner had been "morose" since his wife's death two years ago.

Hold Special Session To Assist Prairies

WINNIPEG (CP) — Suggestion for a special session of Parliament if necessary to vote funds to meet the prairie drought problem will be discussed at the fifth annual convention of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation opening here Tuesday.

Making preparations for the national gathering, council members met during Sunday and today, under the chairmanship of J. S. Woodsworth, M.P., national chairman.

Declaring the drought situation in Saskatchewan a national calamity and Dominion responsibility, a resolution will be submitted urging the federal government to assure food, clothing, shelter and health service for farmers affected. Another resolution dealing with drought will suggest a long-term rehabilitation programme.

Church Tradition Broken at Oxford

OXFORD, Eng. (AP) — The Archbishop of Canterbury broke a tradition of the Church of England Sunday by celebrating Communion for members of all Christian denominations at the World Conference on Church, Community and State.

Holy Communion was in St. Mary's Church, and the Primate led in a final service of thanksgiving. The Bishop of Chichester announced a delegation would relay to Germany's embattled evangelical church leaders the proceedings of the conference "at the time most convenient for church leaders in Germany."

It is requested that members on teams and officers of the Victoria Chapter No. 25 Women of the Moose be at the K. of P. Hall, 1415 Broad St. this evening at 7 for ritualistic practice. The meeting will commence at 7:30, followed by a whist drive.

The regular meeting of Princess Patricia Lodge No. 238, Daughters of St. George, will be held on Friday evening in the K. of C. Hall. Members taking the trip to Vancouver are asked to be present to make final arrangements. Members are also asked to bring refreshments.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Imperial Veterans' Association, Victoria Branch, met Friday evening with Mrs. H. D. Bennetts, the president, in the chair. Business was discussed and it was arranged to hold a picnic, the date and time to be announced later. The following committee has been appointed: Mrs. Seed, Mrs. Weatherill and Mrs. Carter, who will work in conjunction with the men's committee of the Imperial Veterans' Association. The next meeting will be held on Thursday evening in the Pemberton Building at 8, when plans will be made for a card party and social evening. Several new members were welcomed.

COLWOOD

Colwood Women's Institute held a special meeting Tuesday evening in Colwood Hall to make final arrangements for their annual summer garden fete to be held at Hatley Park Wednesday, July 28, and also the joint summer flower show scheduled for August 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Sneddon of Saskatoon have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. King.

Mrs. H. F. Meadows of Prince Rupert, a former Colwood resident, visited the district recently, renewing acquaintances.

Mrs. LaPlante and children, of Anacortes, Wash., have been recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Marshall.

Mrs. G. A. Harris is holidaying in Seattle and other mainland points.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hopwood of Blubber Bay paid a brief visit to Colwood as the guests of Mrs. R. B. Murray, "Dalmeny," before proceeding south for a visit to the United States.

Weddings

PARLEY—GREEN

In St. John's Church on Saturday evening at 8, Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick united in marriage Olive Josephine, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Green of 1519 Amelia Street, and Mr. Douglas J. Parley, son of Mr. W. M. Parley of 1575 Pembroke Street.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of turquoise blue, with pink hat and carried a bouquet of pink roses, sweet peas, carnations and gypsophila.

Her bridesmaid was Miss Dorothy Flowers, who wore a frock of pink voile, a bandeau of pink rosebuds on her head and carried a bouquet of pink and white sweet peas. As flower girl, the bride's little sister, Dorothy, was dressed in pink chiffon and carried a basket filled with pink sweet peas.

The bridegroom was supported by Mr. George Parley of Duncan.

After the service a reception was held in the Eagles' Hall, where a buffet supper was served, followed by dancing until midnight. Assisting in serving the guests were Mrs. Green, Mrs. C. Flowers, Mrs. N. Smith, Mrs. D. MacGregor, Mrs. J. Cowan, Mrs. F. Barber, Mrs. G. Walton, Mrs. M. Goudy and Mrs. G. Barber.

Mr. and Mrs. Parley will make their home at the Kensington Apartments.

TAYLOR—WELLS

An interesting wedding took place recently in Manchester, England, when Eileen Mary, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wells, Vancouver, was married to Mr. Hubert L. Taylor, formerly of this city, and a brother of Mr. H. R. Taylor, Richmond Avenue.

The marriage was performed at "Stamford House," the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. A. Kay, in Alderley Edge.

The groom is a member of the Royal Canadian Air Force and went over to England with the Canadian Coronation contingent.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are spending a honeymoon of several months in England, returning to Vancouver in December, where they will make their home.

Wed Last Week

Mrs. Leonard Andrews of Vancouver is visiting in Victoria with her father, Hon. S. F. Toimie, at Cloverdale.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. King, Craigdarroch, have as their guests for the next week Mrs. H. E. A. Pentreath and her daughter, Beatrice, Vancouver.

Dr. Gordon A. McCurdy, recently appointed pathologist at the Jubilee Hospital, and Mrs. McCurdy, who arrived in Victoria from Halifax recently, are making their home on Dean Avenue.

Lady Lennard of Vancouver has been the week-end guest of her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. L. Bruce Latimer. Sir Stephen and Lady Lennard will sail for England on August 28.

Mrs. L. D. Chatham of Gordon Head left yesterday afternoon for the mainland on her way to Montreal, from where she will sail on July 30 on the Duchess of Bedford for England to make her home there.

Miss Margaret Clay, who has been attending the Pan-Pacific Conference of Women's Associations in Vancouver, entertained at the hotel on Friday afternoon at the Hotel Vancouver, some of the younger delegates to the convention.

The engagement is announced of Gladys Mary, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Rogers of 3409 Quadra Street, to Mr. Frank Robert Lock, only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Lock of Port Alberni. The wedding will take place Saturday, August 14.

With summer gaiety in full swing at the Empress Hotel, supper dancing on Saturday night was a very cosmopolitan affair. The orchestra under the baton of William Tickle featured "Born to Love," "Little Heaven at the Seven Seas" and "Old Man Moon" as lead numbers.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hunt announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Gertrude Florence, to Mr. Kora W. Larsen, youngest son of Mr. C. Larsen and the late Mrs. Larsen. The wedding will take place at Christ Church Cathedral early in August.

Miss Louise Farris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Farris of Great Central Lake, arrived in Montreal at the week-end on her return home from attending the Coronation ceremonies in London. She will visit with her uncle, Dr. Hugh Farris, in St. John, New Brunswick, before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Watts of Vancouver, formerly of Victoria, announce the marriage of their elder daughter, Elsie Mary, to Mr. Ivor Derrick Lachlan in London, England, on Saturday. The bride, who was attended by Miss Frances Dutton of Vancouver, wore a suit of white silk boucle de laine, with corsage of orchids and lily of the valley.

Price.

Mrs. George Warren Boole of San Mateo, who has been spending the week-end in Victoria as the guest of Miss Agnew, Rockland Avenue, left this afternoon on her return to her home in the south.

Miss Kathleen Agnew, Rockland Avenue, accompanied by Miss D. Schofield of Victoria, and Miss Agnew's niece, Miss Patricia Agnew of Seattle, who is her guest, went over to Salt Spring Island today to open tomorrow the W.A. bazaar being held there.

Dr. Howard Spohn of Vancouver and his daughter, Miss Betsy Spohn, who were in Victoria for the Munro-Green wedding Saturday, have returned to their home on the mainland. Mr. Ross Sutherland of Vancouver, an uncle of the bridegroom, who was also here for the wedding, has returned to the mainland.

Miss Mildred Jones was hostess at a tea party on Saturday afternoon, given at the home of her mother, Mrs. Stephen Jones Sr., Douglas Street, in honor of her sister, Miss Margaret Jones, whose marriage to Mr. Horace Walter Miller will take place on Saturday. The drawing-room and other reception rooms were beautifully decorated with a profusion of Dorothy Perkins roses, clarkia and gypsophila. The tea table looked particularly lovely, spread with a Venetian lace cloth and a centre cut crystal bowl filled with pink sweet peas, surrounded by filmy pink tulle. Tall pink tapers in silver holders completed the dainty effect. Mrs. Sam MacLure and Mrs. H. W. Miller, mother of the bridegroom-to-be, presided at the table, and Mrs. O. H. Dorman and Mrs. F. H. A. Norton cut the ices. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Harry Buckle Jr., Mrs. Howard Jones, Misses Ruth Norton, Roma Dorman, Muriel Winterbottom, Gwen Burton, Thelma Ackerman, Marjorie Brown, Elza Lovitt and Kathleen Kermode.

Guests staying at the Forest Inn, Shawnigan Lake, include: Mr. and Mrs. C. R. De Mille, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Breyer, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Woodward, Mrs. C. M. Weistead, Mr. H. COUNTESS DIES IN HOTEL FALL

LONDON — The Countess of Cardigan, 33-year-old wife of the Marquess of Ailesbury's son and heir, was killed Saturday night when she fell to the street from a seventh-floor window of the Savoy Hotel in the Strand.

The countess, formerly Miss Joan Salter, daughter of a noted Thames boat-builder, was understood to be in the best of health, although a week ago she suffered severe headaches as a result of sunstroke.

Police today were investigating to determine whether the fall was accidental.

Three youths playing in the street witnessed the tragedy.

Granddaughter of Stephen Salter Jr., an architect of Podwell, Ryde, Isle of Wight, the countess became acquainted with the Earl of Cardigan at Oxford when he was an undergraduate. They were married in 1924. There are two children.

Turkey's two sulphur mines are now working full time.

District Liberals Picnic at Elk Lake

With an attendance of 400 members and friends, the Esquimalt and Saanich Liberal associations joined forces on Saturday for a basket picnic at Elk Lake where guests included Norman W. Whitaker, K.C., M.P.P.-elect; C. J. McDowell, C. E. Whitney-Griffiths and Edward M. Whyte.

A lengthy programme of sports was staged in which young and old participated with keen interest. The programme was arranged by J. F. Mesher, and the following members of the Esquimalt association acted on the committee: Mrs. J. Roger, Mrs. Jessie MacFarlane, J. F. Mesher, Thomas Williams and Harry Prior. The Saanich members of the committee were: Mr. and Mrs. P. Foreman, Mrs. E. E. Bell, T. T. Jarvis, J. Warnock, J. Roberts, T. Tharratt, L. Derman and Eric Wilkinson.

LUXTON

The silver tea held last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hankin attracted many local and Victoria residents. The tea was sponsored by the Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute, and was convened by Mrs. J. Trace.

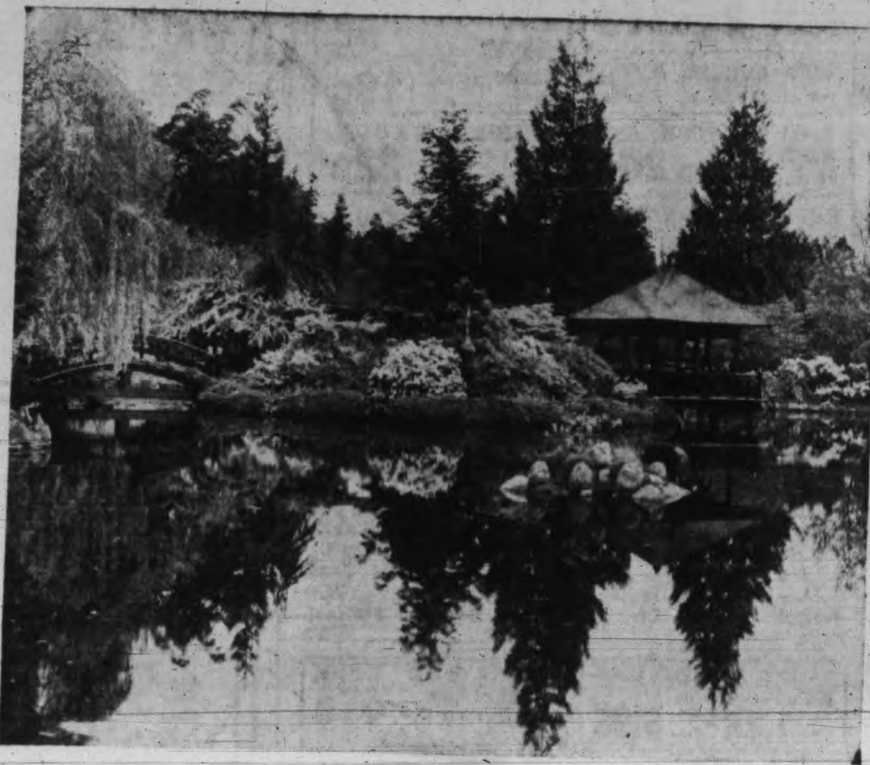

Miss Barbara Green of Victoria is visiting Miss Mary Geddes.

Mrs. R. Brown, "Mandalay," has as her guest her niece Miss Catherine Calder of Vancouver.

Mrs. J. Knight, a former resident, visited the valley Wednesday renewing old acquaintances.

Mrs. C. Butt, Glen Lake, is holidaying in Nanaimo and Vancouver.

Scene in Japanese Garden, Hatley Park

Through the kindness of Mrs. Dunsmuir, Hatley Park will be the scene of the annual garden fete on Wednesday held under the auspices of the Colwood Women's Institute under the convenship of Mrs. Porteous, acting president. The gates to the estate will be opened at 10 in the morning. The proceeds of the garden party will be devoted to the Queen Alexandra Solarium and community betterment. Afternoon tea will be served and glimpses into the future by tea-cup reading will be fore told.

FEW PARENTS TAKE PROPER COURSE TO TEACH RESPECT

No one denies that children must learn to respect and heed their first authorities, the parents. Through the years, they may accept those of school, church, or state and of nation.

Parents who allow a child his own sweet way cultivate in him an emotion of scorn for each new authority which may at any time try to inhibit, restrict or throttle his conduct.

But the manner in which authority is upheld and respect for it cultivated is the rock upon which the two schools of thought most often split. The easy-going parent spoils the child in the belief that she is being modern—allowing him to express himself, though it may be at the expense of the family's comfort and his own necessary restraint.

The parent who upholds her right to dictate to the child, simply because she is a parent—with no regard for any rights of the child, usually does so by means of painful punishments. The first parent does nothing, neither upholds authority nor inculcates respect for it.

The second parent has the right idea but the wrong method. She believes too often that respect for authority is vested in the right arm. To say proudly, "I turned him over my knee and paddled him good," signifies to her that she has successfully built up respect for her precepts.

The parent who uses spanking as a panacea for disobedience and misconduct is certain to overdo it. Because it may for a time have an inhibiting effect, she has to continue to apply it with greater violence to continue to make the same impression.

No thinking parent really espouses vicious beatings, and yet if she has faith in the good results of corporal punishments her emotions may eventually betray her. She cannot be trusted to always keep the fine line between spankings and beatings.

It were better, all things considered, to pin her faith to less dramatic weapons. It is folly to expect to inculcate respect for her as an authority by giving the child his own way. It is likewise folly to hope to inculcate respect by the use of corporal punishment. Let her begin to think upon the subject from that point.

Our leaflet on "Obedience and Discipline" discusses many angles of this important subject. It may be had for a self-addressed, three-cent stamped envelope sent with your request for the leaflet by name to Myrtle Meyer Eldred of the Your Baby and Mine department of this newspaper.

THEY have no "circuit" over which to roam and from which to pluck a dollar, but Canadian professional golfers are on the warpath in rather a big way this summer, brushing up the artillery for the international match at Toronto in September against the United States.

There can't be any doubt that the pros are making headway after Jules Huot's victory in the General Brock open tournament with a 72-hole total of 280. The little Frenchman from Kent, Quebec, was chased to the wire by Bobby Alston of Ottawa with 285, Bobby Gray Jr. of Windsor with 287 and Willie Lamb of Lambton, Toronto, with 289.

Scores like these haven't been common for Canadians. If the standard of scoring keeps on improving, the team sent to Canada by the United States Professional Golfers' Association to meet a team selected by the Canadian P.G.A. will have its difficulties.

First of its kind between the two countries, the one-day match will be played Sept. 7 at St. Andrew's where the Canadian open will start the following day. It is modelled after the Ryder Cup matches between Great Britain and the United States. The singles and five four-ball matches will be played all over the 18-hole route.

Five places on the Canadian team will be filled by players selected on their performances this year and in other years. The remaining spots will go to the low five in the Canadian P.G.A. 72-hole championship at the Ottawa Hunt Club in the third week of August.

Huot, therefore, might be regarded as a certainty. Quebec's best golfer, he won the Canadian P.G.A. title in 1934. His victory at Fonthill over such American aces as Lighthorse Harry Cooper, Ray Mangrum and Jimmy Thomson was a notable event.

Alston, the sensational Gray and the veteran Lamb, many times P.G.A. winner, will be after consideration for selection on their records. So will other low scorers in the General Brock, such as Lex Robson of Toronto, Stan Horne of Ottawa and Art. Hulbert, Lou Cumming and Dick Borthwick of Toronto.

The American team is expected to be changed little from that which defeated Britain in the recent Ryder Cup matches in England. It may even be strengthened since foreign-born players will be eligible. Thus United States could call on Cooper, Tommy Armour, Charles Lacey and others.

The best U.S. pros play annually in the Canadian open and the team will likely be picked from Ralph Guldahl, Horton Smith, Sam Snead, Lawson Little, Jimmy Thomson, Ed Dudley, Byron Nelson, Walter Hagen, Joe Kirkwood, Tony Manero, Denny Shute, Leo Diegel and Johnny Revolta.

The team match will be a great curtain-raiser for the championship in which Little will be the defender. The San Franciscoan, former British and U.S. amateur champion, scored a record-breaking victory last year over St. Andrew's with cards of 67, 66, 69 and 69 for a total of 271.

U.S. Stars Are Carried To Four Sets By Britons

Tuckey and Wilde Go Down 6-3, 7-5, 7-9, 12-10 in Davis Cup Play

Americans Lead

WIMBLEDON, Eng. (AP)—Overcoming stubborn resistance, Don Budge and Gene Mako defeated C. R. D. Tuckey and F. H. D. Wilde in the doubles today, 6-3, 7-5, 7-9, 12-10, and gave the United States 2 to 1 lead over Great Britain in the Davis Cup challenge round with two more singles matches yet to be played.

With that one-point advantage, American supporters now hope Budge will beat Henry Wilfred (Bunny) Austin in the final singles matches tomorrow for the clinching point if Frank Parker bows to Charles Edgar Hare in the opener.

Budge and Mako, the all-England champions and conquerors of Germany's combination of Gottfried von Cramm and Heinrich Henkel in the interzone finals, gave their followers many anxious moments today before they finally pulled the doubles match out of the fire.

After sweeping through the first two sets in rapid style, the Californians appeared headed toward an easy triumph. But with the veteran Tuckey performing brilliantly in support of the untied Wilde, the Britons came roaring back to win the third set and almost snatched the fourth as well.

WILDE IS WEAK By a strange quirk, Tuckey captured every one of his service games until the 21st game of the fourth set. And when Budge and Mako broke through them, it spelled curtains for the Britons. Leading 11 to 10 then, Budge served a love game in the 22nd game for set and match.

In the long run, it was Wilde's weak play that allowed the Americans to win. Budge and Mako broke through his delivery in the eighth game for their decisive advantage in the opening set; they cracked his service again in the 11th game of the second set to take that too. In the third set which the Britons finally won by breaking through Mako in the 16th game, Wilde endangered his set by dropping his service in the third game.

He lost his service twice in the final set, in the third and 15th games, but each time the Britons came back in the succeeding game to break through Mako's delivery and square the count again. So that in the end it was Tuckey's failure to hold his service in the 21st game that was decisive.

Budge won every one of his service games throughout the match and Tuckey lost only one. Mako was beaten five times on his own delivery and Wilde six times.

Colwood Golfers Beat Cowichan

In an interclub match played yesterday at the Colwood Golf Club the home players defeated a team from the Cowichan Golf Club 24 to 8. Colwood won the singles 12 to 4 and the fourballs by a like margin.

Women Booked For Mat Show

Clara Mortenson, the latest attraction in the wrestling game and self-styled world champion, will be seen in action here Wednesday night at the Tillicum gym, when she appears on a special show being arranged by Promotor Fred Richardson. Another woman exponent, who has not been selected yet, will appear against the mat queen.

The promoter promises a fine supporting cast for the show, including a pair of local heavyweights and some imported material. The booking of the women wrestlers has created considerable interest here, and fans are advised to book early for seats. The opener will be at 8.45.

OTTAWA RIFLE SQUAD CHOSEN

Six Victorians Will Make Trip For Annual Meeting of D.C.R.A.

The team of 16 marksmen to represent British Columbia in the annual Dominion of Canada Rifle Association meeting at Ottawa next month was announced Saturday by H. "Lottie" Collings, secretary of the British Columbia Rifle Association.

The squad includes six Victorians and 10 Vancouver shots. Collings named 13 who were chosen from the grand aggregate list of the recent B.C.R.A. meet and they will be joined at Ottawa by Lieut. G. A. Molecey, Lieut. N. Colville and Sergt. J. Kier, returning from Bisley.

The 13 marksmen named by Collings follows: Cpl. P. M. Gibault, Vancouver; Pte. C. Robins, Victoria; Sergt. A. E. Ashe, Victoria; W.O.2 B. I. Barton, Vancouver; Const. F. C. Sullivan, Vancouver; C.S.M. L. C. Willoughby, Vancouver; Fus. I. M. Grant, Vancouver; Sergt. J. H. Regan, Victoria; Sergt-Major W. H. Ruffell, Victoria; Ist. C. S. Sergt-Major E. J. Read, Victoria; Gnnr. C. Rasmussen, Victoria; Cpl. R. Walker, Vancouver and Fus. C. Dingwall, Vancouver.

The team will leave for Ottawa July 31 and will take part in the provincial Quebec meeting which is to be held in the Dominion Capital.

CRICKET GAME ON TOMORROW

Hubert Lethaby's Team Will Oppose Eleven From H.M.S. Exeter

Tomorrow morning at Macdonald Park, starting at 10.30 o'clock a cricket match will be played between a team captained by Hubert Lethaby and the eleven from H.M.S. Exeter. It will be an all-day affair with stumps to be drawn at 6.

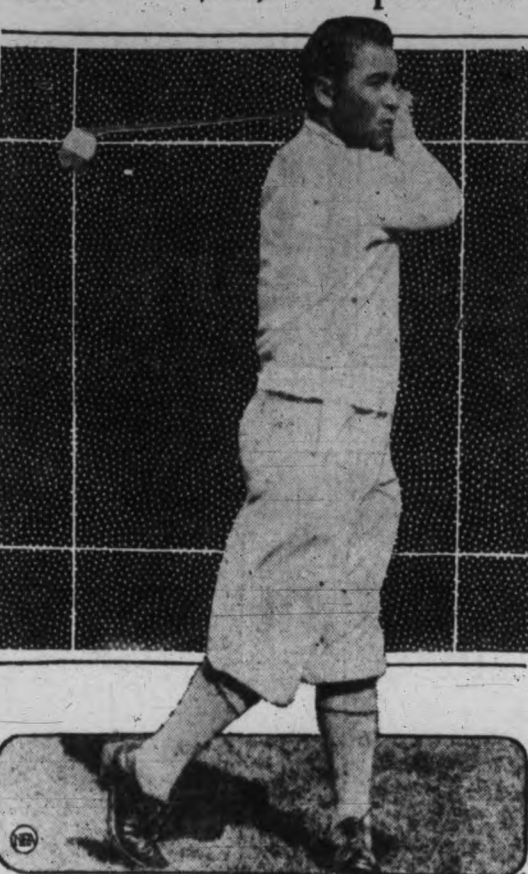

Mr. Ferguson will be the umpire and Mr. Land scorer. Lethaby's team follows: G. C. Grant, M. Allen, F. B. Starkey, D. Hinks, R. Wenman, R. Tye, A. Robbons, F. Comley, E. Barry-Steele, G. Austin and H. Lethaby.

On Saturday another match will be played between H.M.S. Exeter and a team from the Victoria Cricket Club. It will start at 10.30 and will also take place at Macdonald Park.

WILL SEEK RECORD

GOSHEN, N.Y. — Greyhound, America's fastest trotter with a mark of 1.57 1/2 will attempt to lower Peter Manning's 15-year-old world record of 1.56 1/2 August 10, the day preceding the renewal of the rich Hambletonian at Good Time Park.

Winner of $10,000 Open Golf

GENE SARAZEN

CHICAGO—Gene Sarazen, the farmer-golfer from Brookfield Centre, Conn., brought to a golden climax another great comeback drive yesterday by conquering a brilliant field in the $10,000 Chicago open tournament with a 72-hole total of 290 strokes. Sarazen wobbled a trifle in the home stretch but his shots were still good enough to withstand challenges for the $3,000 capital prize by three Chicago professionals, "Light Horse" Harry Cooper, slender Horton Smith and Ky Laffoon, who followed him abreast a single stroke back.

Giants Win Last Game With Cubs

Halt National League Leaders 5 to 0 as Crucial Baseball Series Ends

They were still chasing after the Chicago Cubs on the National League merry-go-round today, but the brassing appeared to be exclusively in possession of Boston's Bees, possessors of a pitching staff that came out of nowhere.

The payoff is that although the Bees' big four-fingers are worth their weight in pound sterling right now, they didn't cost wily old Bob Quinn and cagey Bill McKechnie much of anything.

Danny MacFayden landed in Boston on waivers. Every other club gave up on old Guy Bush. Lou Fette and Jim Turner, a couple of 30-year-old rookies, couldn't have cost much to bring up from the minors this year, at an age when most others are on the way down again.

This quartette, aided by a couple of other "cheap" assistants, such as Johnny Lanning and Gabbo Gabler, and without the backing of any kind of batting punch, have burned up the loop in a drive that has skyrocketed the Bees from eighth place on June 27 to a spot where they're flirting with the first division.

GREAT RECORD They have won 22 of 30 starts and have allowed but 81 runs in 270 innings.

They climaxed their winning spree yesterday by topping the Pittsburgh Pirates in both ends of a doubleheader, 5 to 2 and 7 to 5, with Bush and Fette doing the work.

The Giants salvaged the last game of their series from the Cubs, 5 to 0, behind Harry Gumbert's six-hit elbowing. The defeat sliced the Cubs' lead to two games.

The New York Yankees wound up their western whirl by splitting with the Chicago White Sox. They won the first game, 12 to 11, on Bill Dickey's two homers, but were nipped in the nightcap, 7 to 6, despite a pair of round trip belts by young Tommy Henrich, all of which left them, with

MOTORCYCLE RODEO GOOD

Plenty of Thrills For 800 Persons Who Attend Show at Langford

The 800 persons who were present at Langford Speedway Saturday night were treated to a thrilling two-hour programme of daredevil stunts and other spectacular features, when the Victoria Motorcycle Club staged its rodeo. There was never a dull moment for the spectators.

The climaxing st. light was held by Frank Baylis who took the leap through a well of burning one-inch boards. The show, which was held under floodlights, included a grand opening parade of participants, a colorful spotlight parade and a fine mixture of daring stunts that produced plenty of excitement for the customers.

Frank Thomas, Jim Worswick, Dan Matheson, Bill Espley and Johnny Norrington contributed a series of individual stunts, which included every kind of solo trick riding. John Norrington and Reg Shanks captured the attention of the audience for ten minutes when they went through a hair-raising display of side-car stunts. The acrobatic tricks by Reg Shanks and Vic Stevens, which required courage and skilful handling of machines was another pleasing feature.

Bob Shanks and Charlie Davies gave a display of broad jumping. Driving at top speed through a ring of fire, these daring speedsters took leaps of over 30 feet. The barrel race, obstacle race, stake race, slow race and well-prepared clown acts by Bill Leahy and Dick Cummings, provided plenty of laughs.

VISITORS TAKE SWIM LAURELS

Seattle and Vancouver Stars Dominate Gala Here; Local Juniors Win

Exceptional strength by Percy Norman's Vancouver girls' team and an outstanding display by the fast-moving boys of Roy O'Neil, Seattle, virtually shutout Victoria swimmers from senior events in Saturday night's international swimming gala at the Crystal Garden. But it did not prevent the local juniors from annexing three places in the hang-up meet which drew one of the largest galleries that has seen an aquatic event here in recent years.

Betty and Mary Baggaloy, Noel Oxenbury, Joan Langdon and Lynda Adams led the Terminal City point scorers in their respective sections, while O'Neil's crack relay squad, competing both in individual events and as a team, cracked one record and equaled another, the squad lowering the northwest 150 yards medley team race mark by one-fifth of a second as they reeled off the distance in 1.27.45. Fred Carlson, Seattle, equaled the 100 yards backstroke mark of 1.7 3-5, beating Don Davidson, Victoria, and Awell, Vancouver, who finished second and third.

FAST TIME

Mack Bockman, Seattle, turned in a smart performance in the 100 yards freestyle, driving home in 56 seconds flat for one of the fastest times recorded in the local pool for that distance. It was, however, short of a record. Lynda Adams, Vancouver's crack young springboard ace,

Boxla Game On Tonight

A 9 to 9 draw was the result of the last game between the Owl Drug and Thunderbirds, second division boxla teams, and an equally good battle is expected tonight when these two teams meet at the Athletic Park in a league tussle.

Both clubs have tucked a few more games under their belts since the last time they met and will be in fine shape for tonight's engagement. The face-off is set for 6.30 with Chuck Chapman as referee.

Senior A players are asked to turnout at the Athletic Park tomorrow night at 6.30 for a practice, in preparation for the trip to Duncan on Wednesday.

UPLANDS IN DOUBLE WIN

A and B Teams Defeat Gorge Vale Squads in Interclub Golf Play

Golfers from the Uplands club scored a clean sweep in their interclub match yesterday against Gorge Vale representatives winning both the A and B matches.

In the A fixture at Uplands the home players won the fourballs 11 to 7 and the singles 10 to 8 for a 21 to 15 decision. In the feature foursome Harold Pretty and F. Painter, Gorge Vale, defeated Harold Brynjolfsson and Bob Morrison.

At the Gorge the visiting Uplands squad won 21 to 15, taking the fourballs 11 to 7 and the singles 10 to 8.

MISS M. HILL WINS

In the women's tombstone competition held at the Gorge Vale Golf Club over the week-end Miss M. Hill was the winner.

Vancouver Club Defeats Winnipeg 2 to 0 in Western Canada Play-off

WINNIPEG (CP)—An inspired team from the Pacific Coast, Vancouver Johnston Nationals, turned back Winnipeg United Weston, 2 to 0, here Saturday night to tie up the western Canada soccer finals.

Winnipeg won the first game of the three-game point series, defeating Vancouver 3 to 2 in a close game Thursday. The deciding game will be played here tonight. The winner will meet the eastern Canada champions in the Dominion Football Association championship series here later in the week.

Colorful Swede Larson, Vancouver centre forward, scored both the goals Saturday, assisted both times by outside right Jack Johnson.

Vancouver played brilliant soccer throughout the game and their dazzling footwork and uncananny headwork confused the Winnipeg team, riddled by minor injuries.

OPENING GOAL

Larson got his first goal after 18 minutes of play, when Jack Johnson sent a slow drifting pass across the front of the goal mouth. Larson leaped high in the air and headed it into the net.

At the 33-minute mark the big centre-forward scored again when the Winnipeg defence blew up and left him uncovered 10 feet from the goal. Jack Johnson again sent a pass in from the right wing and Larson booted it into the goal.

Winnipeg's forward line, led by centre-forward Maxy Pilous, who scored three goals in the first game, could not get under sail. Their passing game proved futile, and time after time the Vancouver half-line broke up offensives. Leland Morley, Vancouver right half, was outstanding in turning back the Winnipeg attacks and feeding his own fast forwards.

Ed Marsden and Jimmy Laurie played air-tight soccer on the Nationals' defence and protected Jimmy Waters in goal.

United Weston's backs prevented the score being higher, and Jack Morrison, left back, was conceded generally to be the best man on the field. Harry Shields, left back, did some brilliant checking and heavy kicking.

North Shore In Cup Soccer Win

VANCOUVER — North Shore United scored a goal in the last few minutes of play Saturday to defeat Vancouver Police 2 to 1 in a second round Province Cup match.

McManus took Spender's pass for North Shore's opening tally fifteen minutes after the start, and the winners were still leading 1 to 0 at half time.

Shortly after the start of the second half, Lee evened the score for Police on a lone try, but Paul Kozoolin rapped home the winning goal for North Shore on a play from a corner just before the whistle.

I—AT HOME

The fox family includes grey foxes, Arctic foxes and many other kinds, but most famous of all is the red fox. This animal ranks at the top for its clever ways and its skill in keeping free of traps. Red foxes on our continent have met the dangers which were brought by the white men, and have lived through them.

Portrait of a red fox.

Red foxes are found in every province of Canada, also in Alaska. They have been reported from every state in the United States except Florida. The growth of cities has driven them from some places, but they often live within easy range of cities. They try to escape the dogs, guns and traps of white men, but they dare to go into farmyards to get something to eat.

People like to eat the flesh of chickens, and so do foxes. Time and again they have robbed hen roosts. They seem to feel they have as much right to the chickens as the people who are raising them.

During the winter, red foxes do not often spend their time in dens. They have extra-thick fur during cold weather, and seem not to mind roaming about and resting alone on ground. If they lived under ground when there was now, it would be easier for hunters to track them to their homes.

At the end of the winter, however, they go into dens. With their strong fore-paws, they dig into the soil, making a hole from nine inches to a foot wide. This hole is slanting at first, but when it is a few feet deep, it is likely to run off on a level. The total length of the tunnel is often from 10 to 20 feet.

The end of the tunnel is enlarged into a little room or "nest." Sometimes, but not always, it is lined with dry grass. In this little room the young are born during early spring. There are from four to nine foxes in a litter, and they have been compared to baby kittens. At first they are small and weak, and their eyes are shut. They make their first trip out of the hole when they are about a month old.

If foxes can find woodchuck holes, they are likely to use them as dens, but they make the tunnels wider. Usually a fox den has two or three tunnels rising to the ground surface. The extra holes help them to escape in time of danger.

Fox cubs are quick to run into their dens, but the older foxes seem to feel safer when away from their homes. While trying to escape from hounds and hunters, they seldom go underground, where they might be "dug out." In a later story in this series, we shall see some of the tricks they play when running away from hunters.

How To Go About Seeking a Job

Dorothy Dix

First, Just Be Sensible Girl

YOU HAVE FINISHED your formal education, daughter, and you are about to start forth to seek your fortune in the business world. It is an unknown country to you, with inhabitants of whose ways and manners and customs you know as little as you do of those of the heart of darkest Africa, and so perhaps you will be glad of a few directions to guide you on your way.

To begin with, when you go to apply for a job dress the part of a girl looking for work. Don't go dolled up like a debutante on her way to a cocktail party. All that the employer has to guide him in judging you is your outward appearance, so try to register as a competent business woman instead of a runner-up for Miss America.

Be spotlessly clean. Wear as good a dress and hat as you can afford, but see that they are plain and dark. Eschew gaudy colors. Cut out all frills. Leave off the jewelry. It makes a nervous man still more nervous and jumpy to have a girl around him who clinks with 10-cent store gewgaws and whose bracelets are always falling over her hands. The hirer and firer would no more pick out a fluffly-ruffles girl for a job than he would a man in a dress suit. He will look at your shoes to see whether your mind will be on your work and not on your feet.

Go light on the make-up. Don't paint yourself up like a barn door when you go out looking for work, and never expect to get a job if you go for it with nails that look like talons dipped in blood. Virtually every man has a revulsion against long red fingernails. Probably they feel that women are enough like cats, anyway, without emphasizing the resemblance by featuring their claws. And wait until you get home of an evening to put perfume behind your ears. Men loathe it in business hours.

Having got your job, set yourself to make good at it. Don't look at it as just a bridge of sighs that will carry you over from the schoolroom to the altar. Think of it as the goal of your ambitions, the one thing that you are determined to make a success of, because on the way you do it will depend whether you will have to always work for a pittance or command a fine salary. Experts are always in demand. A slack worker is always out of a job.

So put your heart and your back into your work. If you are a stenographer, memorize a page of the dictionary every night so that you will not only know how to spell words, but also their meaning and application. If you are a saleswoman, learn all about the line of goods you are selling. Make yourself an authority on fabrics and style. Nine tenths of the women shoppers want somebody to settle their wavering minds and tell them what to buy.

Cultivate good business manners. Be friendly, but not familiar. Don't call a customer "dearie." Don't be supercilious and wither a woman with scorn who asks for a cheap article. Don't be bored and indifferent and let a customer wait while you finish telling another clerk about the swell party you went to last night. Don't be haughty and condescending and burn up a fat woman with your disdain because she has a 54-inch belt measure. She may be going to buy half a dozen stylish stouts. Make your customer feel that you are personally interested in her getting what she wants and who will always come back to you. So will you build up a clientele.

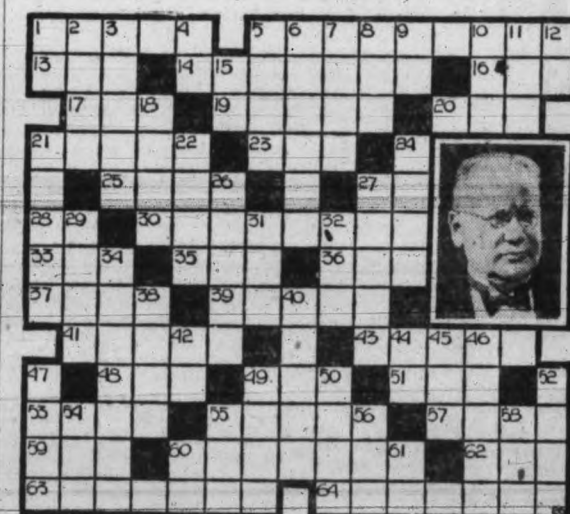

Don't carry your feelings into business. Don't apologize for working and tell all and sundry how rich and aristocratic your family used to be and how you never expected to come to this. Nobody cares. Don't burst into tears every time your work is criticized. Don't expect men to show you the same politeness in an office that they would in a drawing room. Don't have to be handled with gloves. Don't get into office politics. And don't fall in love with your boss or have a flirtation with a fellow clerk.

Don't think that you can make sex appeal take the place of good work. Perhaps there are men who will put up with bad spelling, smeary letters and incompetent salesmanship from a platinum blonde who rolls her eyes at them, but such are few and far between. Business is one thing and philandering is another, and most of the girls who have affairs with their employers lose both their boy friends and their jobs.

ENGLAND HAS CRICKET LEAD

Scores 358 Runs Declared in Test Match Against New Zealand

MANCHESTER (CP) — Featured by a gallant stand between A. W. Hadlee and his captain, M. L. Page, New Zealand hit up 281 runs in reply to England's first-innings score of 358 for nine wickets, declared, in the second test match between the two countries today. Before play closed England had lost three of its finest batsmen for 37 runs, giving the Mother Country a lead of 114.

Five New Zealand wickets had fallen for 119 runs when Hadlee and Page came together. The pair put 99 before Page was dismissed for 33. His colleague went on to score 93, hitting 10 fours. He was at the wickets 3 hours and 40 minutes.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The provincial government this morning announced the appointment of Allen Mather, Germanon Creek, as a notary public of the province.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will be open until 9 this evening to receive late entries for the parades to be held here August 4 and 7.

William T. Battershill, 76, of 713 Courtney Street, was found dead in bed yesterday. Death appeared to be due to natural causes, the police report.

From 3 to 4 yesterday afternoon at the Queen Alexandra Solarium, the Cowichan District Band rendered a programme of music that was much enjoyed by the patients.

James Alfred Parmiter, 3520 Saanich Road, and Percy Mickleburgh, 3363 Linwood Avenue, have been appointed Saanich election commissioners by the provincial government.

Edward Crabbe, employed by Luney Bros. Ltd. at their work in the Royal Oak Burial Park, sustained an injured arm today when the ditch on which he was working caved in.

The Victoria branch of the T.V.A., Canadian Legion, will hold their annual picnic at the Willows Park tomorrow afternoon from 2 until 5.30. Refreshments will be served by Ladies' Auxiliary. Games will be played.

Colorful Oriental floats will be added to the parade here, August 4, by the Kapoor Lumber Company and the local Sikh Temple, it was announced this morning. Entries have already been received from the Japanese and Chinese of the city.

W. A. MacAdam, agent-general for British Columbia in London, is co-operating with the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau in an attempt to obtain a world-wide broadcast of the Victoria Jubilee celebrations, August 2, by the British Broadcasting Corporation.

The second meeting of the series of "Summer Evenings With the Stars" will be held tonight at 8.15 in Victoria College. The speaker will be G. Browne Cave, whose topic will be "The Moon, Our Unique Satellite." Several telescopes, including the Hopkins 8-inch reflector, will be in place for observation following the talk.

Members of the Victoria Club for the Hard-of-Hearing and others interested in the club will hold a basket picnic next Wednesday afternoon at Willows Beach, foot of Estevan Avenue, commencing at 3 and continuing into the evening. All are requested to take their own refreshments. Further particulars may be obtained by phoning G 4245. On account of the picnic the regular meeting of the members at the clubrooms has been canceled for that evening.

The concert sponsored by the Kinsmen Club on the Showboat tomorrow night will commence at 8.30. The time has been set back to follow the Retreat by the Band of the H.M.S. Exeter. Harry S. Hay will be in charge of the Showboat programme. One of the features of the evening will be a bathing-beauty parade. A number of young ladies will parade in old-fashioned, and up-to-date bathing costumes. The programme will also include songs, chorus singing, comedy numbers, dancing and other features. The proceeds will be given to the funds of the Citizens' Recreation rooms.

The Canadian Anti-vivisection Society, 315 Sayward Building, Victoria, B.C., is offering money prizes of $5, $4, $3 and $2 for the best letter on the subject "My Objections to Vivisection." The contest is open to residents of Vancouver Island only. The age limit is from 15 to 25 years and maximum of body of letter 500 words. The last date of entry is September 25. Competitors must give age, name and address and send entries to Miss Dora Kitto, honorary secretary, 315 Sayward Building. The society will observe world day for animals early in October. There will be no meeting of the board of the Victoria society in August.

For the information of Prairies here, Capt. Burges Gadsden today received word from his man at Morris, Man., on condition of the crops in the Red River Valley. Barley is developing satisfactorily in spite of some rust, with harvest about August 1. Durum and Thatcher wheat is not showing any rust, but other varieties, especially Ceres, are rusting badly. Thatcher wheat will be ready for harvest about August 1, but Durum not until August 10 to 15. Thatcher is standing 30 to 40 inches tall, with heads 2 1/2 inches long; durum is 4 to 4 1/2 feet tall, with heads 4 to 4 1/2 inches long. There has been no falling over to date. The hail and electric storm of July 22 did damage to some but not all areas.

PEDENS BACK IN VICTORIA

Torchy, Doug and Eleanor Return After Tour of Seven Months

After a tour of seven months, during which time they visited Europe, Torchy and Doug Peden, Victoria's two famous professional bike riders, accompanied by their sister, Eleanor, arrived back in the city yesterday evening. The threesome motored from Montreal by way of the United States.

Torchy and Doug say they will remain here for a couple of months and will resume training in about three weeks. "We are going to get into first-class condition and really expect to go places in the six-day races in the east this winter," the boys said. The brothers will spend most of their time in the woods, cutting trees and hiking.

After taking part in the six-day bike race at Wembley, London, Torchy and Doug separated, the former going to the continent accompanied by Eleanor. Torchy took part in races at Antwerp and Copenhagen, and did very well. At the former city the big red-head teamed with Albert Buysse, famous Belgian rider, to win a fifty-mile road race.

Doug, in the meantime, had an operation performed on his leg, and made a trip to Ireland to recuperate.

The three met again in London and after visiting relatives in Scotland boarded ship for home.

SUNSHINE INN RUNS AT LOSS

Will Limit Meals to Recommended Applicants During August

The operating loss in cash for June at Sunshine Inn was $56.52, according to the manager's statement, presented at the monthly meeting of the board of trustees. The expense of providing 2,197 meals was $171.77, and cash donations totalled $115.25. Value of useful commodities donated was placed at $84.59.

For the first six months of 1937, cash receipts were $894.75. Disbursements were $1,381.29, making a loss of $586.54. Meals provided during the period totalled 24,664.

The board adopted the balance sheet and the manager's report. Serious consideration was given to the public response to the deficits, and it was decided to close Sunshine Inn for August, except to applicants recommended by agencies which found they could not be assisted in other ways. Many were eating at Sunshine Inn, it was felt, who should be seeking consideration from other sources.

A. MacCorkindale Passes Away

Archibald MacCorkindale, of 20 Menzies Street, died Friday evening at St. Joseph's Hospital after a lingering illness.

Mr. MacCorkindale was a native of Argyllshire, Scotland, and had been a resident of Victoria for 21 years. During that period he was associated with the Imperial Oil Company, but had retired for some time prior to his death.

Before coming to British Columbia, Mr. MacCorkindale had been connected with an American insurance firm at Capetown, and was also consul at Port Elizabeth. He returned to the Old Country from South Africa, and entered the brokerage business in London prior to coming to Victoria.

He is survived by his widow and one son, Archibald Jr., at the family residence. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon in McCall Bros. Funeral Chapel at 2. Very Rev. C. S. Quinton, Dean of Columbia, officiating. Later the remains will be forwarded to Seattle for cremation. It is requested no flowers be sent.

Fire Destroys Top of House

The attic and roof of the rooming house owned by Mrs. A. Moss, at 1145 Yates Street, was destroyed by a fire which broke out in the premises at 1.41 yesterday afternoon.

The fire was presumably started by a spark falling on the roof. At 8.29 yesterday morning firemen broke the window in Jacob Aaronson's radio and bicycle shop at the corner of Government and Johnson Streets to put out a fire blazing in the window. At 5.25 the department answered another call to 628 Pembroke Street and responded to a grass fire on Johnson Street at 7.58.

OBITUARYMRS. JANE REID

Funeral services for Mrs. Jane Reid were held Saturday afternoon in the presence of many sympathizing friends. Representatives from the Aged Women's Home, the Women's Guild of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, and Sergeant-Major and Miss E. A. Coles, representing friends of Salmon Arm, B.C., were present. Rev. George Rowland and Rev. Peter McNabb conducted impressive services, after which interment was in Royal Oak Burial Park. The following acted as pallbearers: A. L. Marchant, Gordon Murray, M. H. Jones and R. S. Stuart.

MRS. G. F. HAMPTON

Many friends attended the funeral of Mrs. Grace F. Hampton Saturday afternoon, Rev. F. V. Venables conducting the services. The hymn, "Abide With Me," was sung, and numerous beautiful floral tributes were received. The following were the pallbearers: C. L. Andrews, P. L. Andrews, David Wyber, W. Griffin, A. McGoldrick and H. Martin. The remains were laid at rest in Royal Oak Burial Park.

PHYLLIS TAYLOR

The funeral of Miss Phyllis Taylor was held on Saturday afternoon and attended by many friends. Rev. O. L. Jull conducted the service, during which the hymns, "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," were sung. Interment was in the family plot in Royal Oak Burial Park, with the following friends as pallbearers: T. H. Lidgate, A. Bray, J. Judy, H. Granrose, F. Connelly and L. Smith.

ALBERT RAMSEY

In the presence of relatives and friends, funeral services for Albert Ramsey took place Saturday afternoon. Rev. F. Conley officiated. Mrs. S. M. Morton rendered the solo, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and the congregational hymn sung was "Peace, Perfect Peace." The many beautiful floral offerings which covered and surrounded the casket betokened the high esteem in which Mr. Ramsey was held. W. H. Nix, W. Bryant, H. V. Lane and G. Hancock acted as pallbearers. Interment was in the family plot at Royal Oak Burial Park.

Mrs. Mary Bertha Fitzgerald passed away in the Duncan Hospital yesterday in her 77th year, after a short illness. For the last 13 years she had made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reade of Cowichan Station.

MRS. L. J. LYALL

At the Royal Jubilee Hospital on Friday evening the death occurred of Mrs. Lillian Jane Lyall, aged 77 years, wife of Robert D. Lyall, 864 Colville Road, Esquimalt. Mrs. Lyall was born in England and came to Victoria with her parents at an early age. She is mourned by, besides her husband, two sons, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Baron, and two sisters, Mrs. Bernard Gough and Miss Ella Baron, all of this city. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon from McCall Bros. Funeral Home at 3. Rev. Thomas Menzies will conduct the service, after which interment will be in Colwood Burial Park.

JOHN FALLON MILDON

There passed away at the Royal Jubilee Hospital this morning, John Fallon Mildon, aged 57 years, a native of U.S.A. and a resident of Victoria for 10 years, his late residence being at 1640 Earl Street. He is survived by his widow at the family residence, his mother in Tacoma, Wash., one sister, Mrs. W. E. Edwards, Vancouver, B.C.; one brother, Herbert Mildon of Edmonton, Alberta, and three brothers, Howard, Louis and Peter, all of Tacoma, Wash. The remains are resting at the Thomson Funeral Home, pending funeral arrangements to be announced later.

JAMES HALLAM

At the Royal Jubilee Hospital yesterday, James Hallam, aged 70 years, of 379 David Street, Saanich, passed away. Mr. Hallam was born in England, and had been a resident of this city and district for 25 years. He is mourned by one son, Thomas, and a brother, Robert Hallam, of this city, and a sister in England, also two grandchildren. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon from McCall Bros. Funeral Home at 3.30. Rev. Canon H. W. G. Stocken will conduct the service, after which interment will be in Colwood Burial Park. Friends are requested to kindly omit flowers.

MRS. CLARE SLATER

At the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital, Mrs. Clare Slater passed away yesterday in her 64th year. She was the widow of John Slater of Sidney, and was born in England and had been a resident of Victoria for six years. She leaves nine sons, Elmer and Percy in Tuelon, Manitoba; Gordon in Saskatchewan;

Firemen Enjoy Platoon Picnic

A full programme of sports and excellent refreshments provided abundant entertainment for members of the Victoria Fire Department's No. 1 platoon, their friends and families at Rodd Hill yesterday.

Approximately 135 attended the picnic and enjoyed the races staged for children, the softball game, treasure hunt and swimming. Suitable prizes were given for the different events.

Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan, chairman of the fire wardens, and his party participated in the picnic, arrangements for which were made by a committee composed of Harry Dyer, Gray Russell, Frank Briers, Alex McDonald and Alec McAllister. W. Blair, John Abbott and "Wimpy" Clayards took charge of the sports programme.

President Of W.A. Passes

The death occurred in Vancouver this morning of Miss Lydia Sill of 515 Linden Avenue, Victoria. Miss Sill was president of the Columbia Board of Women's Auxiliary to M.S.C.E., succeeding Lady Lake in office. Miss Sill was Dorcas secretary for many years of the Diocesan Board. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

VOWS TAKEN BY SISTERS

Two Members of Order of St. Ann Celebrate Golden Jubilees at Academy

The blue and white chapel of St. Ann's Academy was ablaze with lighted tapers and filled with a wealth of floral bloom this morning when two members of the Order of St. Ann celebrated their golden jubilees, two young sisters took the holy habit and three took temporary vows. Marking fifty years since they took their first vows were Sister Mary Edith and Sister Mary Olympe, both of whom entered at the Mother House in Lachine, but who have spent most of those years in various parts of British Columbia. They are now attached to the provincial headquarters staff at Victoria.

After six months' probation Sister Helen Tuck of Vancouver and Sister Ethel Howell of New Westminster, a recent convert to Catholicism, took their holy habits and became, respectively, Sister Laura Marie and Sister Hilda Marie. They will wear the white veil until their next vows are taken.

The three sisters who made their profession, taking temporary vows, were Sister Carmen Marie, Sister Mary Adelaide and Sister Mary Ludvina.

BISHOP OFFICIATED

Bishop John C. Cody officiated at the ceremonies of profession, and preached the Golden Jubilee sermon. Father J. A. Gaudette sang solemn high mass and Rev. Father Jordan, O.M.L., of Vancouver, gave the profession sermon.

In the chapel that was the first Roman Catholic cathedral in Victoria Bishop Cody spoke of the fifty years that Sister Mary Edith and Sister Mary Olympe had given to their Order. He spoke of the encouragement their lives were to the younger women just taking their vows.

"It is true that to the world very little seems understandable of the sacrifice they have made, because the maxims of Christ are not the maxims of the world and the teachings of the world are not the teachings of Christ," Bishop Cody said.

In the congregation were relatives and friends of the Sisters, visiting clergy from the mainland, a group of white-garbed nurses from St. Joseph's Hospital, Sisters of Charity from Vancouver and a brown-frocked, sandaled Franciscan father from across the line. Sisters from all parts of the province, Alaska and the Yukon were also in attendance.

Following the ceremonies in the chapel the Sisters were informally "at home" in the academy reception rooms and in the gardens, just now at the height of their summer loveliness.

Board Members Enjoy Outing

Between 40 and 50 members, their families and friends, attended the annual Victoria Real Estate Board picnic and outing held yesterday at the lovely home of Lt.-Col. and Mrs. Brooke Stephenson at Beecher Bay, Sooke.

The party arrived in the morning and remained until the evening, lunching at noon and having tea at 5. Through the courtesy of Col. Brooke Stephenson members of the party were taken on a tour of the nearby islands in their host's launch. Games played a large part in the day's programme while the children enjoyed rides on a small Shetland pony.

The programme of games was in charge of W. H. Davies.

FIVE C'S IN
CRICKET WIN

Defeat Cowichan 88 to 55 in League Match at Beacon Hill

With local and up-island trundiers displaying fine form, only four batsmen were able to reach double figures Saturday afternoon as Five C's took the measure of the visiting Cowichan eleven in a league cricket match at Beacon
Hill Park. The score was 88 to 55.

Jack Payne, young Five C's bowler turned in the highlight performance of the afternoon, dismissing four Cowichan batsmen for the slim total of six runs.
George Payne also found the pitch and ball to his satisfaction, taking four for 18. Baiss was the most effective for the visitors with seven for 41.

In a fine display of hitting Yoxall, Five C's batsman, scored 49 runs in 40 minutes. His total included a six and four fours.

The Victoria cricketers defeated the Albions by three wickets and 13 runs in a friendly match at Macdonald Park.

16 to 10 and 15 to 5. Lefty Grove hurled a two-hitter as the Boston
Red Sox socked the Cleveland Indians, 4 to 1, in a game cut to five innings by rain, and the Detroit Tigers banged out four homers to whip the Phillies, 12 to 9.

The Brooklyn Dodgers and St.
Louis Cardinals put on 23 innings of dizzy baseball, with Brooklyn winning the opened, 6 to 5, in 11 innings and tying the nightcap at 7-11 in 12.

The Cincinnati Reds split with the Phillies, dropping the second game, 7 to 3, after taking the opener, 13 to 3.

rent Bill

Jean Harlow - never displayed her versatility as an actress to better advantage than in "Riff-raff," which opens today at the Plaza Theatre.

Teamed with her for the first time is one of Hollywood's finest actors, Spencer Tracy.

The characters, as only Frances Marion can create them, are powerful. Una Merkel, whose forte is considered to be comedy, is amazing as Lil, Jean's sister, a down-trodden wife with two children, overburdened by life's problems. Joseph Calleia, who gave such promise in "Public Hero," again comes through with a brilliant portrayal as Nick Lewis, wealthy, vicious cannery owner.

Miss Merkel and Calleia head a strong supporting cast, which includes Victor Kilian, Mickey Rooney, J. Farrell MacDonald,
Roger Imhoff, Juanita Quigley,
Paul Hurst, Vince Barnett, Dorothy Appleby and Judith Wood.

The second feature presents
Walter C. Kelly in "Tugboat Princess" with Edith Fellows.

The Brookline Dodgers and St.
Louis Cardinals put on 23 innings of dizzy baseball, with
Brooklyn winning the opened, 6
to 5, in 11 innings and tying the nightcap at 7-11 in 12.

The Cincinnati Reds split with the Phillies, dropping the second game, 7 to 3, after taking the opener, 13 to 3.

TWO FEATURES AT OAK BAY

"Love Is News" and "Her Husband's Secretary"
Opening Today

The romance of a thrilling thriller whose kisses crash the headlines and whose escapades sell extras, with handsome Tyrone Power outmanoeuvring his
"Lloyd of London" role, lovely Loretta Young bringing her fresh charm to a portrayal that is en-chantingly different, and Don Ameche creating a dashing new screen characterization, provides hilarious excitement in the Twentieth Century-Fox streamline hit,
"Love Is News," opening today at the Oak Bay Theatre.

The second feature will be "Her Husband's Secretary," starring
Jean Muir and Beverly Roberts.
